Condemnation Of Zionism By U.N. Blasted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. full membership committee has declared Zionism a form of racial discrimination, an action which the United States warned "places the work of the United Nations in jeopardy."

By a vote of 70-29 with 27 abstentions the social affairs committee Friday night recommended to the General Assembly an Arab-and Communist-backed resolution asserting that the assembly "determines that Zionism is a form of racism and racial discrimination."

Zionism is the movement for a Jewish national homeland in Palestine — a homeland that came into existence with the creation of Israel against Arab opposition.

Israel condemned the resolution, saying in a Foreign Ministry statement released in Jerusalem that it was "against the basic right to nationhood of the Jewish people." The statement said the resolution was a "clear expression of racism," and it condemned the "states who worked and voted for it."

Friday's U.N. action was the first major clash of the autumn assembly session between supporters of the Arab nations and of Israel.

The Palestine Liberation Organization has claimed credit for the resolution, which was cosponsored by the 20 Arab U.N. members, Cuba, the Ukraine, Dahomey, Guinea and Afghanistan.

Diplomats said the Arabs regarded the measure as compensation for giving up at least temporarily on an earlier campaign to oust Israel from the assembly.

U.S. delegates Leonard Garment told the committee before it voted that "Under the guise of a program to eliminate racism the United Nations is at the point of officially endorsing anti-Semitism, one of the oldest and most virulent forms of racism known to human history ... this is an obscene act."

"Protest is not enough," said Garment, who was counsel to former President Richard M. Nixon. "In fairness to ourselves, we must also issue a warning. This resolution places the work of the United Nations in jeopardy."

American U.N. Ambassador Daniel Patrick Moynihan told a later news conference that "Never before has the United States" voiced such a warning in the world organization.

He said the resolution "places in jeopardy American participation" in the U.N. program against racism, which started in 1973. And that is only the beginning, Moynihan said, declining to elaborate.

The ambassador saw a possibility, however, that the resolution could be defeated when it comes before the assembly itself.

Moynihan noted that only the United States and Israel voted against condemning Zionism at the U.N.-sponsored International Women's Year conference at Mexico City in August.

"A lot of people stood up with us today," he said.

Man Slain By Officer

INDEPENDENCE, Ohio (AP) — An Independence policeman shot to death a man who police said struck the officer over the head with a gun.

Police said Lester Murphy, 29, was shot by Patrolman J. Timothy Franko who was trying to question Murphy about a series of traffic accidents.

Police explained that Franko spotted Murphy in a phone booth in an Independence restaurant and tried to question him about a car that earlier had struck four cars along Ohio 17. Police said Murphy was the driver of that car and he had left the scene of the accidents.

Officials said when the policeman asked for identification, Murphy reached in his pocket and pulled out a .38-caliber revolver with which he struck Franko on the head.

The patrolman then pulled out his own gun and fired twice at Murphy.

NOT BIG ENOUGH—Half Moon Bay, California, Mayor Lloyd Cardoni, wearing specially-stenciled bright orange sweatshirt, looks a bit stunned as Circleville Mayor Frank Barnhill, by way of the telephone, relates the dimensions of Mark Coon's biggest Pumpkin Show squash and subsequent winner of the World Series of Pumpkins vs. Half Moon Bay. Pumpkin Vine

The Herald received a personal telephone call from Mrs. Ted Lewis Friday. She wished to extend her appreciation publicly to all the members of the Pumpkin Show Committee for getting together a fine festival for 1975. Mrs. Lewis had planned to attend the event but circumstances prevented her from making the trip this year.

Nobody we have talked to can remember when two parades were rained out on the same day at Pumpkin Show. There may have been harder rains, but certainly none so steady throughout the years. The weatherman recorded only 1.87 inches of rainfall, but it started during the night and lasted all day Friday. The streets were virtually deserted with only a handful of hardy souls making the rounds. Wednesday and Thursday had record crowds attending the event and yesterday must have been a record for non-attendance.

Elmer Huber of Fairborn died of an apparent heart attack while visiting the Pumpkin Show Friday.

Mr. Huber, 68, was found ailing by the driver of the Fairport Senior Citizens van. He was dead on arrival at Berger Hospital at 1 p.m.

City Police were busier with traffic accidents Friday than crowd control. And that is blamed primarily on the weather.

Officers investigated five accidents, in which there were no injuries.

Mary Harris, 347 Logan St., told officers that thieves took a 12-volt Delco battery from her car which was parked on Canal St. from 4 p.m. to 2:30 a.m.

The battery is valued at $50.

While rain predominated yesterday's weather, high winds also accompanied with wet stuff and were responsible for some damage.

The winds knocked down part of a dead tree at Robert Cupp's 151 Town St. home about 7:15 p.m., causing a limb to strike the east side of the house.

A storm window and screen were broken and there was some damage to the roof.

Recapitulations of weather summaries for the past nine Pumpkin Shows disclose that rain was a visitor only seven of the 36 festival days.

It rained two consecutive days only once during the period, that being 1971 when Friday and Saturday of the show were hit by brief rain storms on otherwise warm days.

Not counting yesterday, probably the worst days for the Pumpkin Show were the Saturday of the 1974 Show when 35-degree temperatures coaxed four-inches of snow from the skies and the Wednesday of the 1967 festival when cold and windy weather was accompanied by rain and hail.

The weather summaries, by the way, were provided by Walter Pickel, 222 E. Mound St., who has served at the Pumpkin Show for the past 20 years as an auxiliary officer in the Ohio State Highway Patrol mobile station at Court and Main Sts.

He'd be happy to recall the old days with anyone who would like to stop at the trailer.

Weather

Cloudy with a chance of occasional rain or drizzle tonight and Sunday. Low tonight, low 40s. High Sunday near 50. Probability of precipitation, 50 per cent tonight and 40 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Friday were: high, 49; low, 47.

Over $1 Million Spent By Rhodes Issue Backers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The committee promoting Gov. James A. Rhodes' four-point economic recovery package already has raised and spent more than $1 million, campaign finance reports show, with the bulk of the money coming from firms which would profit financially by their passage.

The financial link was acknowledged Friday by the largest contributor, the Ohio Contractors Association, which through Wednesday had given $330,000 to the Ohioans for Jobs and Progress Committee and spent another $67,000 on its own.

The contractors' association defended its contributions as contributing to the public good as well as its own.

"In normal times, this industry employs more than 210,000 Ohioans," the OCA said. "Today, fewer than 100,000 onsite construction jobs exist. Our industry is not in a recession. We are in a depression."

"It has become obvious that the construction industry has a responsibility to communicate in its own enlightened self-interest, and to point out that its interests contribute to the public good," the association said. "We have tried to provide the maximum amount of information on a complicated subject without hiding our purpose."

Ohioans for Jobs and Progress is the campaign committee promoting Issues 2, 3, 4 and 5, which face voter approval or rejection Nov. 4.

Its pre-election report, filed a week before the deadline, showed contributions of $1.18 million and expenditures of $1.17 million through Wednesday.

The 88-page report included several pages of small contributions from individuals, usually $5 or $10. But those were overshadowed by large gifts from organizations and companies.

More than $750,000 came in contributions of $5,000 or more from corporations and associations, including the contractors' association, public utilities, banks, insurance companies, paving companies and savings and loan associations.

The largest individual contribution, and the only one above $5,000, was a $50,000 check from Mrs. John W. Galbreath of Columbus, wife of the nationally known developer and financier.

The report also showed the committee already has spent more than $1 million for advertising and fund raising.

The largest expenditure was $873,000 to the media consulting firm of Bailey, Deardourff and Eyre. The firm was listed at a Columbus address but has its main offices in Washington, D.C.

Byers Gets 4-25 Year Prison Term

Former Circleville resident, 23-year-old Ronald E. Byers, was sentenced to three concurrent prison terms of 4-25 years by Judge Merlin Parent Fairfield County Common Pleas Court Wednesday.

Byers, who pleaded guilty to three counts of involuntary manslaughter Oct. 2 during his arraignment, reportedly drove the car in the Aug. 9 slaying of three Fairfield residents.

He was arrested by Fairfield County Sheriff's deputies after informants reported he had driven alleged triggerman Charles Downs to the murder scene on rural Beck Road and later picked him up.

Byers and Downs were charged in the shotgun murders of Steven R. Bailly, 25; his common-law wife, Connie Hodgman and her daughter, Tracy, 7.

Downs remains in the Fairfield County Jail awaiting trial.

John D. Deardourff, one of the partners in the firm, was the chief media consultant during Rhodes' successful campaign for governor last year. Deardourff specializes in television advertising.

The committee also paid $94,000 to National Direct Mail of Washington, D.C., for mailings and data processing.

Another $41,000 was paid to Goettler Associates, Inc., of Columbus for fundraising. Ralph H. Goettler, the firm's president, is a professional fund raiser for the Ohio Republican party.

Contributors of $5,000 or more listed in the report were:

Ohio Contractors Association, Columbus, $330,000; Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co., Columbus, $50,000; Mrs. John W. Galbreath, Columbus, $50,000; Portland Cement Association, Skokie, Ill., $37,800; West Central Ohio Division, Associated Contractors of Ohio, Inc., Dayton, $33,000;

Flexible Pavements, Columbus, $25,000; Dundee Cement Co., Dundee, (Continued on Page 12)

Woman Still Fights Death From Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Linda Hardy looks for one more Christmas to celebrate with her children as she is treated for terminal cancer.

"My one goal is to see another Christmas, it's the most beautiful time of the year. I want to buy lots of presents for my kids," said Mrs. Hardy during an interview earlier this year.

This week her surgeon said that "We've been buying time for three or four years which is pretty good. Whether you can buy time for another two or three years, I don't know."

The physician who has applied chemotherapy says that "keeping the tumor under control is the primary object at this particular time."

Life is looking up for Mrs. Hardy, 33, who received national attention in March when she was hospitalized for a fourth operation to curb the cancer. She was seeking a family to care for her children—Sheri, 13; Joey, 11, and Amber, 7—should she die. Her husband deserted the family five years ago, but she remarried a lifelong friend this month.

Her plea was answered by hundreds of letters to the hospital, her home and doctor. A trust fund for her children—with nearly $8,000 now—was set up for donations, her attorney said.

Mrs. Hardy, who has largely avoided talking to reporters, has tentatively determined who will take her children if she dies, the attorney says. The three children spent part of the summer in California with a prospective family. However, her attorneys, who admit to losing contact with Mrs. Hardy periodically, are uncertain whether the children will remain with the new father if she dies.

EVEN WET, IT LOOKS BIG—Friday Pumpkin Show visitors were amazed at Mark Coon's world's record 378-pound squash even though it was a bit soggy from the 1.87 inches of rain. Both parades and nearly all of the scheduled activities were stymied by the constant downpour that began very early Friday and has never subsided.

Van Camp Consigns To Chianina Sale

T.D. Van Camp is a consignor to the Midwest Chianina Classic scheduled to begin 4 p.m. Oct. 25 in the Livestock pavilion on the Clark County Fairgrounds, Springfield.

The first fullblood Chianina female to sell at public auction in the United States, except for the state of Texas, will be one of three fullblood Chianina cattle to be featured at the sale. She is Bridgen Beauty, a yearling daughter of Intuto, and is the result of an embryo transplant. The donor dam, Gagliarbeta, was exported from Italy to England in 1973. The female is being consigned by James Shaw of Edmonton, Alberta.

In addition to the fullblood heifer, two fullblood bulls have been consigned by Ron McPahil of Brandon, Manitoba, Canada, and by Marshall Copithone of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

The sale is sponsored by the Ohio Chianina Assn. In addition to the full blood cattle being offered, there will be an outstanding selection of 23 open and bred three-quarter females, 24 three-quarter heifer pairs and seven bred half-bloods. As an added attraction, 25 individually selected half-blood Chianina Steer club calves will be sold.

BABY WINNER—Danny Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens, Route 5, Hargus Lake, was judged the prettiest baby between two and three years old in the 1960 baby parade. Dan is now a senior at Logan Elm High School.

Van Camp Consigns To Chianina Sale

T.D. Van Camp is a consignor to the Midwest Chianina Classic scheduled to begin 4 p.m. Oct. 25 in the Livestock pavilion on the Clark County Fairgrounds, Springfield.

The first fullblood Chianina female to sell at public auction in the United States, except for the state of Texas, will be one of three fullblood Chianina cattle to be featured at the sale. She is Bridgen Beauty, a yearling daughter of Intuto, and is the result of an embryo transplant. The donor dam, Gagliarbeta, was exported from Italy to England in 1973. The female is being consigned by James Shaw of Edmonton, Alberta.

In addition to the fullblood heifer, two fullblood bulls have been consigned by Ron McPahil of Brandon, Manitoba, Canada, and by Marshall Copithone of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

The sale is sponsored by the Ohio Chianina Assn. In addition to the full blood cattle being offered, there will be an outstanding selection of 23 open and bred three-quarter females, 24 three-quarter heifer pairs and seven bred half-bloods. As an added attraction, 25 individually selected half-blood Chianina Steer club calves will be sold.

BABY WINNER—Danny Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevens, Route 5, Hargus Lake, was judged the prettiest baby between two and three years old in the 1960 baby parade. Dan is now a senior at Logan Elm High School.

ORDINANCE NO. 105-75
AN ORDINANCE REZONING A 0.541 ACRE TRACT OF LAND LOCATED ON THE EAST SIDE OF NORTH COURT STREET NORTH OF WILSON AVENUE FROM "R-4 SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENCE DISTRICT" TO "ARO, APARTMENT RESIDENCE OFFICE DISTRICT".

WHEREAS, the Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission by unanimous vote by all members present on Thursday, August 21, 1975, approved recommending to the City of Circleville the rezoning of the said tract of land from "R-4, Single Family Residence District" to "ARO, Apartment Residence - Office District", and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on October 7, 1975 by the Circleville City Council to hear comments on the proposed rezoning:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1: That the approved rezoning map established by Section 1101.06 (b) of the Codified Ordinances as enacted by Ordinance No. 55-70 passed July 13, 1970 and as subsequently amended be and the same is hereby revised in the following manner:

The following described property is hereby rezoned from "R-4, Single Family Residence District" to "ARO, Apartment Residence - Office District":

ORDINANCE NO. 100-75
AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF A NOTE IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING FOR A ONE MILLION GALLON ELEVATED WATER STORAGE TANK AUTHORIZED BY ORDINANCE 41-75.

WHEREAS, the fiscal officer has certified to this council that the estimated life of the property and improvement hereinafter mentioned is at least five years, and that the maximum maturity of the bonds hereinafter referred to is 5 years, and the maximum maturity of notes to be issued in anticipation of said bonds is 5 years;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1: That it is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of the City of Circleville in the principal sum of $470,000.00 for the purpose of paying for a one million gallon elevated water storage tank.

SECTION 2: That said bonds shall be dated when issued as required, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of 5 per cent or less per annum payable annually until the principal sum is paid and shall mature in substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

SECTION 3: That it is necessary to issue and this council hereby determines that a note aggregating the principal sum of $470,000.00 shall be issued in anticipation of such bonds. Such anticipatory note shall bear interest reflective of the best rate obtained pursuant to section 2 above.

SECTION 4: Such note shall be executed by the mayor and auditor and shall bear the seal of the corporation. It shall be payable at Circleville, Ohio and shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued pursuant to this ordinance.

SECTION 5: Subject to the rejection of said note by the officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund for investment in such fund, said note shall be and hereby is hereby pledged for the purpose of the payment of principal and interest of said note in the manner provided by law.

SECTION 6: Said note shall be the full obligation of the City of Circleville and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City of Circleville are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said note and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of said note shall to the extent necessary be used only for the retirement of said note at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

SECTION 7: During the year or years while such note runs there shall be levied on all the taxable property in said City of Circleville, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually not less than that which would have been levied if bonds had been issued therefore without the prior issue of said note. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each said year are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of said note or the bonds in anticipation of which it is issued when and as the same falls due; however, provided that in each year to the extent that the income from the water department revenue is available for the payment of such note and/or bonds and is appropriated for such purpose, the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of such income so available and appropriated.

SECTION 8: It is hereby determined and recited that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done, precedent to and in the issuing of said note in order to make it a legal, valid and binding obligation of the City of Circleville have happened, been done and performed in regular and due form and as required by law; and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will have been exceeded in the issuance of said note.

SECTION 9: The clerk of council is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the county auditor.

SECTION 10: That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

'Crime City' Cutting Into Problem

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (AP) — The murder rate in this seaside city of 55,000 equaled New York City's two years ago. Two of every 12 citizens were robbed, burglarized, assaulted, raped or had their cars stolen.

Now, the crime rate appears to be falling in a big way in this gateway to the nation's biggest Marine base.

Holdups are down. Prostitutes no longer roam the streets in large numbers. Residents are venturing downtown at night. Merchants, once in a rush to leave, are happy to be doing business here.

Getting some of the credit for the turn-around is a 41-year-old German immigrant named Rolf Henze. He has been the acting police chief since August, when Ward Ratcliff retired under fire.

Henze's crime control unit, with plainclothes officers riding in unmarked cars, has kept a constant watch downtown and made 400 arrests. Another 100 suspects were picked up: most were Marines turned over to military police at nearby Camp Pendleton.

Narcotics sales and street violence are down, said Henze. There were six or eight strongarm robberies a night in downtown Oceanside last summer. Now, there are an average of two. "The crooks are staying out because it isn't safe for them," Henze said.

Also leading the cleanup effort was Maj. Gen. Carl Hoffman. He added military police, put controversial taverns off limits and staggered paydays to reduce the sudden impact of a $5 million payroll given twice a month to Camp Pendleton's 24,000 men and women.

"The Marines never exercised such leadership over the past decade than they have in the last five weeks," says David R. Laurent, executive director of the Oceanside Chamber of Commerce.

"Washington has given Gen. Hoffman the green light and tough measures are being taken, not only to protect Marines from getting hurt or robbed but in dealing with those in the wrong."

Laurent said that 15 to 20 small businesses pulled up and left town during a year of "bad crime publicity and bad crime statistics." Now, he said the trend appears to be reversing itself.

Despite the crackdown, Henze said "at least 35 per cent of those arrested are still Marines."

Camp Pendleton has been under civilian pressure to keep the young leathernecks out of Oceanside.

There were 195 Marines booked in city jail in the first seven months of 1975 compared to 156 in the same period last year. Rapes increased from 7 to 21, and burglaries blamed on Marines went from 15 to 34.

The Armed Services YMCA was ordered out of a downtown, city-owned building because of loitering Marines and at one point this summer, Mayor Howard Richardson told a Defense Department investigator, "I'd like you to move Camp Pendleton, move it someplace else."

The problem has been building for years. Eighty-five per cent of Camp Pendleton's leathernecks are 18 to 25, an age bracket described by the FBI as the most crime prone.

High Court Eyes Conduct Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court will decide whether a truck driver expressed an opinion or was guilty of disorderly conduct with a "totally mouthy" outburst to a highway patrolman who stopped him for passing a weigh station.

It agreed Thursday to hear the appeal of driver David D. Kuno, convicted of disorderly conduct and of driving an overweight vehicle on Ohio 80 in Trumbull County. Both convictions were upheld by the 11th District State Court of Appeals.

However, counsel for the driver maintained that his client's remarks to the patrolman, admittedly "crude", were intended for the patrol organization and not a particular individual.

After being arrested, Kuno's truck was driven on to Girard where it was weighed and found to be in excess of legal load limits. The patrolman said Kuno's remarks were "totally mouthy", making him feel "harassed."

In his appeal, Kuno said he did not pass the weigh station, and that he should not be punished for voicing an opinion to what he feels is "highly questionable detention by a police officer."

In another case, the Supreme Court let stand a lower court injunction against use of two allegedly obscene books in Strongsville 10th, 11th, and 12th grade English classes—except to instruct students whose parents have given written consent.

The books, "Manchild in the Promised Land", and "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" were judged obscene by Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court in a ruling subsequently concurred in by the 8th District State Court of Appeals.

In their suit against the Strongsville Board of Education and other school officials, Robert Grosser and others contended use of the books in mixed classes would do "irreparable harm" to the students. School officials said they were reviewed by school board members, a citizens textbook committee, and teachers before being authorized for classroom use.

In other business, the court: —Agreed to review the second-degree murder conviction of John J. Schaub, Dayton, in the shooting death of a policeman during a disturbance in a bar in Fairborn in early 1974.

Schaub's counsel claimed Patrolman Daniel Bruns was "the aggressor" in the dispute that occurred when he ordered Schaub and another youth to leave the establishment. Schaub claimed he was kicked in the groin during a doorway scuffle.

—Let stand a 1st District Court of Appeals decision ordering a disputed land appropriation case, involving Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. and Dayton Power & Light Co., back to trial court for further proceedings.

Joseph N. Davies, John T. Nieman, and other property owners claim the utilities abused their discretion by taking their Butler County property for the construction of a 345,000-volt power line from the Miami Fort power station to the Dayton area.

Cotton Demand Improving

WASHINGTON (AP) — World demand for cotton continues to improve at a time when U.S. producers are harvesting their smallest crop in eight years, according to the Agriculture Department.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service estimates that world cotton use in 1975-76 will rise 5 per cent to 60.8 million bales from 58.1 million last season.

Textile manufacturers, hard hit by economic recession, energy shortages and soaring prices, cut cotton use sharply last season. The 58.1 million bales used were down more than 5.2 per cent from the record peak of 61.3 million consumed in 1973-74.

Although the new estimate would put 1975-76 cotton use at its second highest level, officials warned that the optimism could fade rapidly if world economic conditions slump again.

But other problems have occurred, too. As of Aug. 1, the department estimated 1975 production at 9.4 million bales, down 18 per cent from last year's output of 11.5 million. The forecast was lowered to 9.3 million bales as of Sept. 1 and last week was put at 9.1 million bales, down 22 per cent from last year.

Too much rain in parts of the Cotton Belt and other weather problems have reduced yield prospects. Insects, boll rot and premature defoliation of cotton plants have taken a toll.

Cotton prices, meanwhile, have recovered somewhat, rising to a farm price average of 44.7 cents a pound as of Sept. 15, according to USDA. What happens from now on depends much on the U.S. and world economy and whether the improved outlook for exports holds up.

Meanwhile U.S. cotton producers are harvesting 9.1 million bales, based on Oct. 1 surveys, the smallest crop since 1967 when the output was 7.5 million bales. The most since then was 13.7 million bales in 1972.

It was apparent early this year that the 1975 cotton crop would be reduced sharply as farmers cut back on plantings and switched to corn, soybeans and other commodities because of severe market price slumps for cotton in 1974. For example, the average farm price of cotton dropped from a peak of 53.6 cents a pound in Aug. 1974 to 32.2 cents in February of this year.

A Page Of Opinion

Trouble In The Big Apple

As many have suspected, New York City, also known not too affectionately as the Big Apple, is rotten at the core. For the past dozen years, the metropolis has been spending money it doesn't have—federal government take note. New York has had the idea that it could provide all types of free services and worry about paying for it later.

Well, later is here. Perhaps most disgusting is Mayor Abraham Beame's attitude that the federal government has an obligation to bail out the city from its self-created problems. In other words, taxpayers from all over the nation, who have enough problems of their own, are expected to subsidize lousy management and spending policies just because New York City is New York City. Regardless of the eventual outcome, we hope other big cities, state governments and above all the federal government will realize that they could wind up in the same leaky boat unless they get their financial houses in order.

Season To Be Sneezin'

NEW YORK (KFS)—It is that time of year again — Indian summer, with its harvest moons and floundering flies, its temperate days and frosty nights. Time for the squirrels to go into hiding, and the cockroaches to come out. Time for the glorious color of the trees to drift picturesquely to the earth, and time for the little acorns to plummet thwack! upon the heads of those who labor with rakes. Time of beauty and wonder and expectation and, perhaps most poignant of all, time of the first common cold of the autumnal season, mingled with symptoms of the flu...

"Tis the time of the tissue, And all through the house Little virus are leaping From spouse unto spouse. And noses are red, And psyches are blue, And thoughts must be said Like, who gave flu to who? But why raise the issue Of which one's the carrier— 'Tis the time of the tissue, A pain in the derriere. Friends, don't let it pall, Sing the Song of the Flu: Season's sneezings to all, And, to all, a kerchoo! In the time-dishonored tradition of mid-October, the cold and flu bugs are "really going around," as doctors are inclined to say, just before they add, "Take a couple of aspirin and plenty of fluids."

Doctors don't bother to differentiate anymore between a cold, the flu, and a viral infection. They overlap. When you have a chill, or a fever, accompanied by a runny nose, a headache, muscle pains, lethargy and sometimes nausea, you can call it anything you like—even "the gripe," if you want to be old-fashioned about it—and nobody knows the difference. With some 250 different types of viri to attack us, how are doctors supposed to know what we've got? And if they knew, the treatment would be much the same: aspirin, plenty of fluids and rest.

The chief difference today between a common cold and the flu may be that if you say you have a common cold, your employer will think you should be working. If you say you have flu, you might get flowers.

A few years ago, during one of my autumnal bouts with whatever virus had sneaked up on me, I asked my doctor what was the difference between flu and gripe. "The difference between flu and gripe? You really want to know?" he rasped at me on the phone. "Well, gripe is from the Russian meaning hoarseness, and flu is the Italian word meaning influence—as in epidemic. The Germans call it 'Blitz-katarrh' for crash infection, and the French call it 'le tac' meaning a blow to the head. Blitz, flu, gripe, le tac—the basic symptoms are all the same." He paused to cough. "And I have them all."

Since then I have learned that researchers for a large pharmaceutical firm have discovered the following facts about viral infections:

Kissing a person with a cold or flu is unlikely to result in one's "catching" the germ.

Rubbing noses (this applies to you

Eskimos) with a cold victim is somewhat more conducive to viral contagion; but even then, the nose-rubber must be in a weakened condition, or he could come out of the experience healthy.

If everybody around you has colds or flu, and you feel left out of the action, the most effective way to catch a virus (reported the researchers) is to spend two hours socializing with a sick child.

Ag Department Computer Plan Hits Roadblock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $62-million deal to buy computers for the Agriculture Department has been killed after congressional criticism that it might lead to federal snooping into the private lives of farmers and other citizens.

The computer plan was scuttled after Congress a week ago approved a $10.8 billion department appropriations bill, but reduced a "working capital" fund intended to help pay for the computers.

Joseph R. Wright Jr., assistant secretary of agriculture for administration, said Thursday that he had notified three computer companies — final bidders on the contract — that the project was canceled. Delivery of the computers was to have begun in December.

Identical letters to the companies said the cancellations were a result of Congress reducing the working capital fund.

Until now, there has been no limit on the fund. But in looking over Agriculture appropriations, Congress fixed an initial lid of $47 million. That was cut to $37 million by House-Senate conferees, a level officials said is too small to begin paying for the new computers.

Wright said on Thursday that the limit ordered by Congress will not prevent individual Agriculture agencies from buying new computers to keep pace with rising demands in such programs as rural housing and timber sales.

Wright said costs would be "substantially more" than $62 million because of the delay and because Agriculture cannot now buy new computers in a one-shot deal.

The department began planning a centralized computer network several years ago, initially to keep track of the mountain of information then involved in federal farm programs for controlling crops.

When the General Services Administration, the government's procurement agency, got wind of the plan, it developed a much more ambitious blueprint for a nationwide computer network called FEDNET. It ultimately was scrapped as a result of congressional concern that it posed a serious threat to the privacy of individuals.

Witnesses Tell Of Explosion At Sponge Rubber Factory

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Several witnesses testifying Thursday in the U.S. District Court trial of nine men charged in the dynamite destruction of a sponge factory told of hearing an explosion the night of the fire.

"I heard a rumble and the building shook," said Fire Chief LeRoy Brainard of Shelton, Conn.

Brainard said he was attending an officer installation ceremony in Derby, which is adjacent to Shelton, when he felt the blast from the Sponge Rubber Products Co. in Shelton the night of March 1.

He said no one was believed to be inside the $10 million plant so he ordered firemen to stay out of the flaming building.

Herbert Rollins of Shelton, a water supplier for the plant's sprinkler system, testified that he was in his house near the factory when he heard the explosion. He said he saw a large glow over the town.

Rollins said more than three million gallons of water from the sprinkler system were used on the fire in 10 hours.

Leon Talalay, a chemical engineer from Woodbridge and a Sponge Rubber employee since 1943, testified that carbon disulfide, an extremely flammable substance, was used at the plant to make foam rubber. But he added that the chemical was stored in a shed near the plant and wasn't ignited.

Talay also testified that the Grand Sheet Metal Co. took over the plant April 1, 1974 from the B.F. Goodrich Co. under an arrangement in which Goodrich owned the building and land and Grand Sheet Metal owned the business.

The government is expected to call 287 witnesses.

Grand Sheet Metal president Charles Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio is one of the defendants. Others are the Rev. David N. Bubar of Memphis, Tenn. and seven Pennsylvania men. All nine were in court.

John Shaw, a 10th defendant, is being tried separately and is expected to testify against the others in the current trial.

2 Men Named To O-C Positions

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. has appointed Thurman W. Bretz as vice president in charge of finance and law and Theodore R. Vogt as corporation secretary.

The appointments will be effective next Feb. 1 upon the retirement of Carl G. Staelin, vice president-law and secretary. Staelin has completed 40 with the company after having joined it at its inception as manager of its legal and patent department.

Bretz, currently vice president-finance, joined Owens-Corning in 1960 as an attorney in the legal and patent department. Vogt, senior counsel and assistant secretary, came to the firm in 1950 as an attorney following a number of years in private practice.

Zanesville was Ohio's capital from 1810 to 1812.

Today is Saturday, Oct. 18, the 291st day of 1975. There are 74 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1867, the United States took formal possession of Alaska from Russia.

On this date: In 1767, the boundary line between Maryland and Pennsylvania — the Mason-Dixon line — was agreed upon. In 1892, the first commercial long-distance telephone service began, between New York and Chicago.

In 1898, the American flag was raised over Puerto Rico shortly before the island was ceded to the United States by Spain.

In 1944, in World War II, Soviet troops invaded Czechoslovakia.

In 1971, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin was attacked by a demonstrator on the Canadian parliament grounds in Ottawa but was unhurt.

Ten years ago: Agents of the FBI arrested a pacifist in Manchester, N.H. on charges of destroying his draft card. It was the first such arrest under a new law.

Five years ago: The Canadian parliament met in special session to discuss the terrorist slaying of a Quebec official, Pierre Laporte.

One year ago: The Soviet Union and Egypt agreed to support establishment of a Palestinian state.

Today's birthdays: Greek actress Melina Mercouri is 50 years old. Playwright Sidney Kingsley is 69.

Thought for today: Concealed talent brings no reputation — Erasmus, Dutch scholar, about 1436-1536.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the Massachusetts House of Representatives in Watertown voted to establish a number of armed vessels along the East Coast to seize British ships and take the cargoes as prizes for the crewmen.

Softening of bone due to the absorption of calcium is a frequent occurrence, especially in women who are passing through the menopause (change of life).

This is thought to be due to an inadequate amount of a female sex hormone.

The condition, known as osteoporosis, can produce a variety of symptoms. For a long time, estrogen has been used, both as a preventative and for treatment.

Now, a group of interesting cases has been reported that have been markedly benefited by the use of calcium and fluoride supplements, in addition to vitamin D.

Dr. Jennifer Jowsey, of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., has noted return of the calcification of the bone in patients on this regime.

Another report on the value of an enzyme injection for lumbar disc disease has just been released.

Dr. Henry W. Abfelbach, of Lake Forest, Ill., studied 37 patients, 29 of whom were distinctly improved after the enzyme treatment.

The process, known as chemo-nucleolysis, is being tried all over America in carefully selected patients.

The early recognition of deafness during infancy is the key to the hope of preventing its progress and even of producing a cure.

A great deal of time has often been wasted in establishing existing deafness.

Dr. Robert Ruben, Professor of Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York City, has developed an extensive program, aimed at the early detection of deafness.

With highly sophisticated electronic equipment, even the very young can be studied to establish a program of rehabilitation.

Massive Peaceful March Set Into Spanish Sahara

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Recruiting began Friday for a march of 350,000 unarmed Moroccan civilians into the Spanish Sahara to reinforce their government's claim to the northern part of the disputed territory and its rich phosphate deposits.

Announcing the "peaceful" invasion, King Hassan II said in a broadcast Thursday night that he would lead the columns into Morocco's southern neighbor.

The king did not indicate when the walk would begin, but officials said preparations — particularly provision of drinking water — would take several weeks at least.

Hassan announced the march a few hours after the International Court of Justice in an advisory, nonbinding opinion, said Morocco and Mauritania, the Spanish Sahara's neighbor on the east and south, had links to the desert territory's nomadic tribes when Spain took it in 1884.

But the court said it could not recognize Moroccan and Mauritanian claims to sovereignty over the territory itself, and that it had no evidence to invalidate the Spanish and Algerian proposal for the colony's 80,000 inhabitants to decide their future in a referendum.

The Spanish government viewed the ruling as an endorsement of its referendum proposal. There was no immediate reaction from Algeria or Mauritania.

The 105,000-square-mile stretch of barren Atlantic coastline contains one of the world's largest deposits of phosphate. Morocco, already the world's largest exporter of phosphate, claims the northern part and Mauritania the eastern and southern. Algeria has 18 miles of border with the Spanish Sahara. Moroccan officials contend that the Algerians want a weak independent state in the hope of obtaining a corridor to the Atlantic, but the Algerians insist they are interested only in the principle of self-determination for the people.

Both Morocco and Algeria have moved sizable troop units to the borders of the Spanish colony, and government sources in Madrid said the 15,000 Spanish troops would fight if the Moroccan army invaded.

Hassan said all the marchers would be unarmed "since we do not want war with Spain," and "no tyrant, not even one totally devoid of faith would dare to give an order to fire on 350,000 persons without arms." He said the Moroccan army would not intervene if Spanish forces attacked the marchers, but "if we meet any forces other than Spanish forces, we will resort to self-defense."

However, Moroccan officials said the marchers would cross the border in the region of Tarfaya, on the coast 300 miles west of Algerian territory.

I hope the readers of the advertisements concerning guns bestir themselves and make known their opposition to so-called "gun control legislation."

Hungary had a gun registration law and when the communists took over they first confiscated gun registration records and then the guns and thus the Hungarians were left without ability to protect themselves.

With rising crime rates we need our guns to protect our homes and persons.

Please support a law that makes it mandatory for judges to give a long specified term in years to criminals that use guns in the commission of a crime.

A Page Of Opinion

Trouble In The Big Apple

As many have suspected, New York City, also known not too affectionately as the Big Apple, is rotten at the core. For the past dozen years, the metropolis has been spending money it doesn't have—federal government take note. New York has had the idea that it could provide all types of free services and worry about paying for it later.

Well, later is here. Perhaps most disgusting is Mayor Abraham Beame's attitude that the federal government has an obligation to bail out the city from its self-created problems. In other words, taxpayers from all over the nation, who have enough problems of their own, are expected to subsidize lousy management and spending policies just because New York City is New York City. Regardless of the eventual outcome, we hope other big cities, state governments and above all the federal government will realize that they could wind up in the same leaky boat unless they get their financial houses in order.

Season To Be Sneezin'

NEW YORK (KFS)—It is that time of year again — Indian summer, with its harvest moons and floundering flies, its temperate days and frosty nights. Time for the squirrels to go into hiding, and the cockroaches to come out. Time for the glorious color of the trees to drift picturesquely to the earth, and time for the little acorns to plummet thwack! upon the heads of those who labor with rakes. Time of beauty and wonder and expectation and, perhaps most poignant of all, time of the first common cold of the autumnal season, mingled with symptoms of the flu. . . .

'Tis the time of the tissue, And all through the house Little virus are leaping From spouse unto spouse. And noses are red, And psyches are blue, And thoughts must be said Like, who gave flu to who? But why raise the issue Of which one's the carrier — 'Tis the time of the tissue, A pain in the derriere. Friends, don't let it pall, Sing the Song of the Flu: Season's sneezings to all, And, to all, a kerchoo!

In the time-dishonored tradition of mid-October, the cold and flu bugs are "really going around," as doctors are inclined to say, just before they add, "Take a couple of aspirin and plenty of fluids." Doctors don't bother to differentiate anymore between a cold, the flu, and a viral infection. They overlap. When you have a chill, or a fever, accompanied by a runny nose, a headache, muscle pains, lethargy and sometimes nausea, you can call it anything you like—even "the gripe," if you want to be old-fashioned about it—and nobody knows the difference. With some 250 different types of viri to attack us, how are doctors supposed to know what we've got? And if they knew, the treatment would be much the same: aspirin, plenty of fluids and rest.

The chief difference today between a common cold and the flu may be that if you say you have a common cold, your employer will think you should be working. If you say you have flu, you might get flowers.

A few years ago, during one of my autumnal bouts with whatever virus had sneaked up on me, I asked my doctor what was the difference between flu and gripe. "The difference between flu and gripe?" You really want to know?" he rasped at me on the phone. "Well, gripe is from the Russian meaning hoarseness, and flu is the Italian word meaning influence—as in epidemic. The Germans call it 'Blitz-katarrh' for crash infection, and the French call it 'le tac' meaning a blow to the head. Blitz, flu, gripe, le tac—the basic symptoms are all the same." He paused to cough. "And I have them all."

Since then I have learned that researchers for a large pharmaceutical firm have discovered the following facts about viral infections: Kissing a person with a cold or flu is unlikely to result in one's "catching" the germ. Rubbing noses (this applies to you Eskimos) with a cold victim is somewhat more conducive to viral contagion; but even then, the nose-rubber must be in a weakened condition, or he could come out of the experience healthy. If everybody around you has colds or flu, and you feel left out of the action, the most effective way to catch a virus (reported the researchers) is to spend two hours socializing with a sick child.

Ag Department Computer Plan Hits Roadblock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $62-million deal to buy computers for the Agriculture Department has been killed after congressional criticism that it might lead to federal snooping into the private lives of farmers and other citizens.

The computer plan was scuttled after Congress a week ago approved a $10.8 billion department appropriations bill, but reduced a "working capital" fund intended to help pay for the computers.

Joseph R. Wright Jr., assistant secretary of agriculture for administration, said Thursday that he had notified three computer companies — final bidders on the contract — that the project was canceled. Delivery of the computers was to have begun in December.

Identical letters to the companies said the cancellations were a result of Congress reducing the working capital fund.

Until now, there has been no limit on the fund. But in looking over Agriculture appropriations, Congress fixed an initial lid of $47 million. That was cut to $37 million by House-Senate conferees, a level officials said is too small to begin paying for the new computers.

Wright said on Thursday that the limit ordered by Congress will not prevent individual Agriculture agencies from buying new computers to keep pace with rising demands in such programs as rural housing and timber sales.

Wright said costs would be "substantially more" than $62 million because of the delay and because Agriculture cannot now buy new computers in a one-shot deal.

The department began planning a centralized computer network several years ago, initially to keep track of the mountain of information then involved in federal farm programs for controlling crops.

When the General Services Administration, the government's procurement agency, got wind of the plan, it developed a much more ambitious blueprint for a nationwide computer network called FEDNET. It ultimately was scrapped as a result of congressional concern that it posed a serious threat to the privacy of individuals.

Witnesses Tell Of Explosion At Sponge Rubber Factory

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Several witnesses testifying Thursday in the U.S. District Court trial of nine men charged in the dynamite destruction of a sponge factory told of hearing an explosion the night of the fire.

"I heard a rumble and the building shook," said Fire Chief LeRoy Brainard of Shelton, Conn.

Brainard said he was attending an officer installation ceremony in Derby, which is adjacent to Shelton, when he felt the blast from the Sponge Rubber Products Co. in Shelton the night of March 1.

He said no one was believed to be inside the $10 million plant so he ordered firemen to stay out of the flaming building.

Herbert Rollins of Shelton, a water supplier for the plant's sprinkler system, testified that he was in his house near the factory when he heard the explosion. He said he saw a large glow over the town.

Rollins said more than three million gallons of water from the sprinkler system were used on the fire in 10 hours.

Leon Talalay, a chemical engineer from Woodbridge and a Sponge Rubber employee since 1943, testified that carbon disulfide, an extremely flammable substance, was used at the plant to make foam rubber. But he added that the chemical was stored in a shed near the plant and wasn't ignited.

Talay also testified that the Grand Sheet Metal Co. took over the plant April 1, 1974 from the B.F. Goodrich Co. under an arrangement in which Goodrich owned the building and land and Grand Sheet Metal owned the business.

The government is expected to call 287 witnesses.

Grand Sheet Metal president Charles Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio is one of the defendants. Others are the Rev. David N. Bubar of Memphis, Tenn. and seven Pennsylvania men. All nine were in court.

John Shaw, a 10th defendant, is being tried separately and is expected to testify against the others in the current trial.

2 Men Named To O-C Positions

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. has appointed Thurman W. Bretz as vice president in charge of finance and law and Theodore R. Vogt as corporation secretary.

The appointments will be effective next Feb. 1 upon the retirement of Carl G. Staelin, vice president-law and secretary. Staelin has completed 40 with the company after having joined it at its inception as manager of its legal and patent department.

Bretz, currently vice president-finance, joined Owens-Corning in 1960 as an attorney in the legal and patent department. Vogt, senior counsel and assistant secretary, came to the firm in 1950 as an attorney following a number of years in private practice.

Zanesville was Ohio's capital from 1810 to 1812.

No Sale On Discharge

DENVER (AP) — Air Force Lieutenant Donald A. Peppers has been denied an automatic release from the Air Force, which he sought on the grounds that he was a notary public in Colorado and could not receive pay from two civil jobs.

A General Accounting Office spokesman said Peppers' status as a notary public in Colorado "was so doubtful that we don't feel that we would be warranted in concluding that he has forfeited his military commission."

If the GAO had decided that Peppers, who is stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, was in fact a notary public, it would have ordered the Air Force to cease paying Peppers his salary and allowances. In that action, the Air Force would be forced to release him or take the case to federal court.

Technicians
Said Safe

CLEVELAND (AP)—An official of the Israeli embassy says the 200 U.S. technicians who will be stationed in the Sinai area as part of the peace settlement will be "safer than in downtown New York City."

Moshe Arad, minister-counselor of information at the Israeli embassy in Washington, said the area where the Americans will be stationed is deserted and under United Nations control.

He said Americans will be there at the request of both sides and "not as advisers to a military force or to one of the confronting governments." He said the United States may withdraw its personnel in case of danger.

Arad, who spoke at a civic club here, said the peace settlement between Egypt and Israel promises to open a new era in the Middle East. Without the agreement, he said, "the Middle East today would have been on the threshold of new military conflict."

He said that because the United States is a major world power it has an interest in the area. But he added that Israel "will not ask for any foreign soldiers to come to defend our country."

ORDINANCE NO. 969
AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF A NOTE IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO PAY THE PROPERTY OWNERS' PORTION, IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY COLLECTION OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS OF THE COST OF IMPROVING JEFFERSON STREET AND STATION STREET BETWEEN CERTAIN TERMINI BY GRADING, PAVING, CURBING, DRAINING AND CONSTRUCTING GUTTERS AND STORM SEWERS AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Council of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, has heretofore by proper legislation declared the necessity of improving Jefferson Street and Station Street between certain termini by grading, paving, curbing, draining and constructing gutters and storm sewers; and

WHEREAS, the Clerk as fiscal officer, has certified to this Council that the estimated life of the improvement hereinafter mentioned is at least five years, and that the maximum maturity of the bonds hereinafter referred to is twenty years, and the maximum maturity of the note, hereinafter referred to, to be issued in anticipation of said bonds, is five years or one year if sold privately;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. It is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Ashville in the principal sum of $90,000 to pay the property owners' portion, in anticipation of the levy and collection of special assessments, of the cost of improving Jefferson Street and Station Street between certain termini by grading, paving, curbing, draining and constructing gutters and storm sewers pursuant to Resolution No. 965 adopted May 19, 1975.

Section 2. Such bonds shall be dated approximately October 1, 1976, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of seven per cent (7 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in twenty substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. It is necessary to issue and this Council hereby determines that a note in the principal amount of $90,000 shall be issued in anticipation of such bonds and in anticipation of the levy and collection of such special assessments. Such anticipatory note shall bear interest at the rate of six and one-half per centum (6 1/2 per cent) per annum, such interest to be payable at maturity. Such note shall be dated the date of issuance and shall mature on or before one year from date.

Section 4. Such note shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk and bear the seal of the corporation. It shall be payable at the office of Clerk, Village of Ashville, and shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 5. Subject to the rejection of such note by the officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund for investment in such fund, such note shall be and hereby is awarded and sold to The Citizens Bank of Ashville, Ohio, at the par value thereof together with any premium and accrued interest thereon; and the Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to deliver such note, when executed, to such purchaser upon payment of such purchase price. The proceeds from the sale of such note, except the premium and accrued interest, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose for which such note is being issued under the provisions of this ordinance. Any premium and accrued interest received from such sale shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied to the payment of the principal and interest of such note in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. The Village hereby covenants that it will restrict the use of the proceeds of the note in such manner and to such extent, if any, as may be necessary, after taking into account reasonable expectations with respect to the delivery of and payment for such note, so that the note will not constitute arbitrage bonds under Section 103 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code, and the regulations prescribed under that section. The fiscal officer or any other officer, including the Clerk, having responsibility with respect to the issuance of the note is authorized and directed alone or in conjunction with any of the foregoing or with any other officer, employee, or consultant of the Village, to give an appropriate certificate on behalf of the Village, for inclusion in the transcript of proceedings setting forth the facts, estimates and circumstances and reasonable expectations regarding the amount and use of the proceeds of the note pursuant to said Section 103 (d) and regulations thereunder.

Section 7. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by such note and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of such note shall, to the extent necessary, be used for the retirement of such note at maturity, together with interest thereon, and are hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 8. All assessments collected for the improvement aforesaid, and any unexpended balance remaining in the improvement fund after the costs and expenses of such improvement have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of such note and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of such note at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in this Village for the payment of such note and the interest thereon.

Section 9. It is hereby determined that all acts, conditions and things required to be done precedent to and in the issuing of such note, in order to make it a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Village, have happened, been done and performed in regular and due form as required by law; that the full faith, credit and revenue of the Village shall be and are hereby irrevocably pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest thereof at maturity; and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will have been exceeded in the issuance of such note.

Section 10. The Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to certify a copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of this Village, and for the further reason that the immediate construction of said improvement is necessary to eliminate existing hazards to pedestrian and vehicular traffic; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

Technicians Said Safe

CLEVELAND (AP)—An official of the Israeli embassy says the 200 U.S. technicians who will be stationed in the Sinai area as part of the peace settlement will be "safer than in downtown New York City."

Moshe Arad, minister-counselor of information at the Israeli embassy in Washington, said the area where the Americans will be stationed is deserted and under United Nations control.

He said Americans will be there at the request of both sides and "not as advisers to a military force or to one of the confronting governments." He said the United States may withdraw its personnel in case of danger.

Arad, who spoke at a civic club here, said the peace settlement between Egypt and Israel promises to open a new era in the Middle East. Without the agreement, he said, "the Middle East today would have been on the threshold of new military conflict."

He said that because the United States is a major world power it has an interest in the area. But he added that Israel "will not ask for any foreign soldiers to come to defend our country."

ORDINANCE NO. 969
AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF A NOTE IN ANTICIPATION OF THE INSURANCE OF BONDS TO PAY THE PROPERTY OWNERS' PORTION, IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS OF THE COST OF IMPROVING JEFFERSON STREET AND STATION STREET BETWEEN CERTAIN TERMINI BY GRADING, PAVING, CURBING, DRAINING AND CONSTRUCTING GUTTERS AND STORM SEWERS AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Council of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, has heretofore by proper legislation declared the necessity of Improving Jefferson Street and Station Street between certain termini by grading, paving, curbing, draining and constructing gutter and storm sewers; and

WHEREAS, the Clerk as fiscal officer, has certified to this Council that the estimated life of the improvement hereinafter mentioned is at least five years, and that the maximum maturity of the bonds hereinafter referred to is twenty years and the maximum maturity of the note, hereinafter referred to, is five years or one year if sold privately;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. It is hereby declared necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Ashville in the principal sum of $90,000 to pay the property owners' portion, in anticipation of the levy and collection of special assessments, of the cost of improving Jefferson Street and Station Street between certain termini by grading, paving, curbing, draining and constructing gutters and storm sewers pursuant to Resolution No. 965 adopted May 19, 1975.

Section 2. Such bonds shall be dated approximately October 1, 1976, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of seven per cent (7 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid and shall mature in twenty substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. It is necessary to issue and this Council hereby determines that a note in the principal amount of $90,000 shall be issued in anticipation of such bonds such as in anticipation of the levy and collection of such special assessments. Such anticipatory note shall bear interest at the rate of six and one-half per cent (6 1/2 per cent) per annum, such interest to be payable at maturity. Such note shall be dated the date of issuance and shall mature on or before one year from date.

Section 4. Such note shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk and bear the seal of the corporation. It shall be payable at the office of Clerk, Village of Ashville, and shall express upon its face the purpose for which it is issued and that it is issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 5. Subject to the rejection of such note by the officer in charge of the Retirement Fund for investment in such fund, such note shall be and hereby is awarded and sold to The Citizens Bank of Ashville, Ohio, at the par value thereof together with any premium and accrued interest thereon; and the Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to deliver such note when executed, to such purchaser upon payment of such purchase price. The proceeds from the sale of such note, except any premium and accrued interest, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose for which such note is being issued under the provisions of this ordinance. Any premium and accrued interest received from such sale shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied to the payment of the principal and interest of such note in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. The Village hereby covenants that it will restrict the use of the proceeds of the note in such manner and to such extent, if any, as may be necessary, after taking into account reasonable expectations at the time of the delivery of and payment for such note, so that the note will not constitute arbitrage bonds under Section 103 (1) of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations prescribed under that section. The fiscal officer or any other officer, including the Clerk, having responsibility with respect to the issuance of the note is authorized and directed alone or in conjunction with any of the foregoing or with any other officer, employee, or consultant of the Village, to give an appropriate certificate on behalf of the Village, for inclusion in the transcript of proceedings, setting forth the facts, estimates and circumstances and reasonable expectations regarding the amount and use of the proceeds of the note pursuant to Section 103 (d) and regulations thereunder.

Section 7. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by such note and any excess funds resulting from the issuance of such note shall, to the extent necessary, be used for the retirement of such note at maturity, together with interest thereon, and are hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 8. All assessments collected for the improvement aforesaid, and any unexpended balance remaining in the improvement fund after the costs and expenses of such improvement have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of such note and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of such note at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in this Village for the payment of such note and the interest thereon.

Section 9. It is hereby determined that all acts, conditions and things required to be done precedent to and in the issuing of such note, in order to make it a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Village, have happened, been done and performed in regular and due form as required by law; that the full faith, credit and revenue of the Village shall be and are hereby irrevocably pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest thereof at maturity; and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will have been exceeded in the issuance of such note.

Section 10. The Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to certify a copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of this Village, and for the further reason that the immediate construction of said improvement is necessary to eliminate existing hazards to pedestrian and vehicular traffic; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Charmed By Ex-Con

DEAR ABBY: I am a respected, 28-year-old woman with a fairly prestigious position. Carl is 25. He says he loves me, and I believe him. He wants a serious relationship with me. He is very well-mannered and handsome—the Paul Newman type.

Carl is back in college and will graduate in a year. He's an excellent student. My problem: He's an ex-convict. In his sophomore year, he was caught smuggling drugs from Mexico to Texas and spent two years in prison. He is now paroled.

Carl has a driving ambition to succeed, and he wants me to be part of his life.

I feel he desperately needs emotional support and has turned to me. I've always sympathized with troubled people and could easily be swept off my feet by his charm and good looks.

Will his being an ex-con handicap him? Do you think we could make it together?

Buttons, Badges From Britain

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — England's Birmingham Mint has supplied coins, and the metals for them, to 119 different nations, states and territories in its nearly 200-year history. Many are now rare and valuable collectors' items. Craftsmen at the mint are also the source for collectors' editions of medals, buttons and badges and fine commemorative plates in precious metals like gold and silver.

League Holds Hobo Party For Members And Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cummins, Route 1, Ashville, recently entertained members of Ashville Suburban Child Study League and their husbands with a Hobo Party.

Everyone dressed as hobos participated in games around a bonfire. The hobos also went on a scavenger hunt, another highlight of the evening.

Guests were served a hobo meal of beans, stew and cornbread while they sat on bales of straw around the fire.

Hobos present for the evening of fun were Mr. and Mrs. James McCallister, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Featheringham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kline, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cummins.

The next regular meeting of the league will be on Nov. 11, at the home of Bonnie Remy, Route 1, Ashville.

Miss Jill Blue Speaker For Circle

Mrs. David Blue and Miss Jill Blue were guests for the Monday evening meeting of Circle 2, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, in the Service Center.

Maxine Woltz, program leader, opened the meeting with prayer and reading "Our Fellowship And His Love," scripture, 1 John 1:3.

Miss Blue was introduced and presented the program. She showed slides and told of her experiences in Columbia, South America, this past summer. She told about each member of the family she lived with. Jill is a senior at Teays Valley High School and a member of Good Shepherd Church.

Evelyn Dunkle conducted the business session which she opened with prayer. Members brought 23 towels, two dishcloths and three potholders to replenish the supply for the kitchen.

Mrs. Montford Kirkwood expressed her thanks to all who helped serve dinner and were hostesses for the Columbus South District meeting held recently at the church.

Members voted to pay $50., the balance of their pledge to the General Society.

Mary Bond closed the meeting by reading two poems by Helen Steiner Rice, "Help Yourself To Happiness" and "Look On The Sunny Side," followed with prayer answering several requests.

Refreshments were served by Evelyn Dunkle and Frances Azbell. The tables were decorated with fall flowers and colored leaves.

The November meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Blanche Kerns, 177 Parklawn Drive. Members are reminded to bring their Thank Offering boxes.

Churchmen Turning To Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid the world's rough political weather, noted religious figures are converging here from around the globe to try to inject some unifying spiritual vision into international affairs.

The United Nations, strained by various conflicts and pressures, is welcoming the added input.

"Political leaders feel a kind of bankruptcy and despair and have become aware of the need for spiritual unity," says Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan, head of the Sufi order in the Western world. "That's why they're opening their doors to us."

Nurse-Midwives Working Out Well

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Nurses with advanced training are delivering babies at the Simpson Center for Maternal Health.

The center, part of Community Hospital, started the program in 1970. Nurse-midwives deliver 60 per cent of the hospital's normal births.

"It grew out of the need in the community," said Carol Powley, director of the hospital's community relations. The number of doctors specializing in obstetrics has declined.

"While the birth rate hadn't increased, there was a need for care in normal childbirths," she said. "The nurse-midwife program has provided it."

Constant supervision is one of the things the nurse-midwife provides, Mrs. Powley noted. She said the average stay for an expectant mother is three to four days.

The fee is $325, near the rate of a private physician.

"Some new mothers just don't feel as comfortable with men," said Agnes Chan, director of nurse midwifery. "They feel a woman is more sympathetic to their feelings," she said.

The center accepts all types of pregnancies now but until this summer it took only those with no danger of complications.

The hiring of Dr. Zaiful Girgis as the center's first fulltime obstetrician brought about the change.

Xi Eta Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will have a hayride for members and friends Tuesday.

They are to meet 7:30 p.m. in the parking lot of Producers Buying Service, 347 E. Corwin St. Members are asked to contact Mrs. Brent Rhoads if they cannot attend.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Scholars and specialists of the major world faiths, Islam, Buddhism, Hinduism, Christianity and Judaism, are taking part in the affair Oct. 19-24, with U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and diplomats joining in portions of it.

It is described as the first international religious meeting at the U.N. in its 30-year history, although Pope Paul VI addressed the U.N. in 1965.

"There is increasing recognition in secular and political life that we're floundering and drying up, that it's not sufficient to be grounded in merely humanistic documents," says Dr. Jean Houston, conference chairman.

Dr. Houston, president of the Foundation for Mind Research, Pomona, N.Y., adds, "We've gotten lost in ideologies, in particular groups and nationalisms, and now, in the crises of world affairs, there's a new realization that we're not going to solve problems from the outside."

"We need to renew our rootage in the deeper spiritual realities, in the image of oneness of humanity, and do it from within. We need to draw on the fundamental resources of the human race, on the taproots of existence."

The gathering, called "Summit V," the fifth inter-religious meetings sponsored in various parts of the world by the Temple of Understanding, an interfaith educational foundation, has the theme "One in the Human Spirit."

Waldheim and various religious notables are among scheduled speakers, including Mother Teresa, the Roman Catholic founder of the Missionaries of Charity in India; Lord Abbott Koshio Ohtani of Japan, a leading Buddhist scholar; Seyyed Hossein Nasr of Iran, a prominent Islamic scholar; Srimata Gayatri Devi of Bombay, India, internationally known Hindu philosopher; Rabbi Dr. Robert Gordis of New York, a top Jewish philosopher; and anthropologist Margaret Mead, an influential Episcopalian.

Only the last six days of seminars, panel discussions, lecture sessions and ritual demonstrations will be at the U.N. Other features, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, include two celebrations of a "cosmic mass," expressing in story, dance and music the kinship of human faiths.

"What we try to do is to bring out the beauty, the validity and basic unity of all historic religions and the potentiality for doing good," says Saphira Barbara Lindin of Boston, director of the unusual mass.

SUPPOSE SPRING IS A LITTLE LATE NEXT YEAR?

Spring is too short a season as it is. So plan your fertilizer needs with Sohigro now, and apply your nitrogen, phosphate and potash this fall. It's a good time to include anhydrous ammonia, too.

If you do the groundwork on your crop production plans now, you'll have that much less to do next spring. And chances are, you'll improve your profit picture.

Isn't this as good a time as any to talk to Sohigro? After all, you know what they say about the early bird.

Newcomers Club Plans Program

A program has been planned for the 8 p.m. Wednesday meeting of Newcomers Club in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society.

Mary Haist will demonstrate stripping and refinishing furniture. For transportation or further information about the club call Sally Thomerson at 474-8929.

Pickaway Plains DAR Schedules Program

Pickaway Plains Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution has scheduled a meeting for 2 p.m. Tuesday at First English Lutheran Church in Ashville.

Indian artifacts will be displayed and Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, chairman of American Indian committee, will talk of the book "The Story of Black Hoof."

Buttons, Badges From Britain

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — England's Birmingham Mint has supplied coins, and the metals for them, to 119 different nations, states and territories in its nearly 200-year history. Many are now rare and valuable collectors' items. Craftsmen at the mint are also the source for collectors' editions of medals, buttons and badges and fine commemorative plates in precious metals like gold and silver.

League Holds Hobo Party For Members And Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cummins, Route 1, Ashville, recently entertained members of Ashville Suburban Child Study League and their husbands with a Hobo Party.

Everyone dressed as hobos participated in games around a bonfire. The hobos also went on a scavenger hunt, another highlight of the evening.

Guests were served a hobo meal of beans, stew and cornbread while they sat on bales of straw around the fire.

Hobos present for the evening of fun were Mr. and Mrs. James McCallister, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Featheringham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kline, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cummins.

The next regular meeting of the league will be on Nov. 11, at the home of Bonnie Remy, Route 1, Ashville.

Miss Jill Blue Speaker For Circle

Mrs. David Blue and Miss Jill Blue were guests for the Monday evening meeting of Circle 2, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, in the Service Center.

Maxine Woltz, program leader, opened the meeting with prayer and reading "Our Fellowship And His Love," scripture, 1 John 1:3.

Miss Blue was introduced and presented the program. She showed slides and told of her experiences in Columbia, South America, this past summer. She told about each member of the family she lived with. Jill is a senior at Teays Valley High School and a member of Good Shepherd Church.

Evelyn Dunkle conducted the business session which she opened with prayer. Members brought 23 towels, two dishcloths and three potholders to replenish the supply for the kitchen.

Mrs. Montford Kirkwood expressed her thanks to all who helped serve dinner and were hostesses for the Columbus South District meeting held recently at the church.

Members voted to pay $50., the balance of their pledge to the General Society.

Mary Bond closed the meeting by reading two poems by Helen Steiner Rice, "Help Yourself To Happiness" and "Look On The Sunny Side," followed with prayer answering several requests.

Refreshments were served by Evelyn Dunkle and Frances Azbell. The tables were decorated with fall flowers and colored leaves.

The November meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Blanche Kerns, 177 Parklawn Drive. Members are reminded to bring their Thank Offering boxes.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Agin, and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hedges, Route 5, spent last weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kissing of Indianapolis, Ind.

Churchmen Turning To Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid the world's rough political weather, noted religious figures are converging here from around the globe to try to inject some unifying spiritual vision into international affairs.

The United Nations, strained by various conflicts and pressures, is welcoming the added input.

"Political leaders feel a kind of bankruptcy and despair and have become aware of the need for spiritual unity," says Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan, head of the Sufi order in the Western world. "That's why they're opening their doors to us."

Nurse-Midwives Working Out Well

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Nurses with advanced training are delivering babies at the Simpson Center for Maternal Health.

The center, part of Community Hospital, started the program in 1970. Nurse-midwives deliver 60 per cent of the hospital's normal births.

"It grew out of the need in the community," said Carol Powley, director of the hospital's community relations. The number of doctors specializing in obstetrics has declined.

"While the birth rate hadn't increased, there was a need for care in normal childbirths," she said. "The nurse-midwife program has provided it."

Constant supervision is one of the things the nurse-midwife provides, Mrs. Powley noted. She said the average stay for an expectant mother is three to four days.

The fee is $325, near the rate of a private physician.

"Some new mothers just don't feel as comfortable with men," said Agnes Chan, director of nurse midwifery. "They feel a woman is more sympathetic to their feelings," she said.

The center accepts all types of pregnancies now but until this summer it took only those with no danger of complications.

The hiring of Dr. Zaiful Girgis as the center's first fulltime obstetrician brought about the change.

Hayride Planned By Sorority Unit

Xi Eta Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will have a hayride for members and friends Tuesday.

They are to meet 7:30 p.m. in the parking lot of Producers Buying Service, 347 E. Corwin St. Members are asked to contact Mrs. Brent Rhoads if they cannot attend.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Scholars and specialists of the major world faiths, Islam, Buddhism, Hinduism, Christianity and Judaism, are taking part in the affair Oct. 19-24, with U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and diplomats joining in portions of it.

It is described as the first international religious meeting at the U.N. in its 30-year history, although Pope Paul VI addressed the U.N. in 1965.

"There is increasing recognition in secular and political life that we're floundering and drying up, that it's not sufficient to be grounded in merely humanistic documents," says Dr. Jean Houston, conference chairman.

Dr. Houston, president of the Foundation for Mind Research, Pomona, N.Y., adds, "We've gotten lost in ideologies, in particular groups and nationalisms, and now, in the crises of world affairs, there's a new realization that we're not going to solve problems from the outside."

"We need to renew our roots in the deeper spiritual realities, in the image of oneness of humanity, and do it from within. We need to draw on the fundamental resources of the human race, on the taproots of existence."

The gathering, called "Summit V," the fifth inter-religious meetings sponsored in various parts of the world by the Temple of Understanding, an interfaith educational foundation, has the theme "One in the Human Spirit."

Waldheim and various religious notables are among scheduled speakers, including Mother Teresa, Roman Catholic founder of the Missionaries of Charity in India; Lord Abbott Kosho Ohtani of Japan, a leading Buddhist scholar; Seyyed Hossein Nasr of Iran, a prominent Islamic scholar; Srimata Gayatri Devi of Bombay, India, internationally known Hindu philosopher; Rabbi Dr. Robert Gordis of New York, a top Jewish philosopher; and anthropologist Margaret Mead, an influential Episcopalian.

Only the last of six days of seminars, panel discussions, lecture sessions and ritual demonstrations will be at the U.N. Other features, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, include two celebrations of a "cosmic mass," expressing in story, dance and music the kinship of human faiths.

"What we try to do is to bring out the beauty, the validity and basic unity of all historic religions and the potentiality for doing good," says Saphira Barbara Lindin of Boston, director of the unusual mass.

SUPPOSE SPRING IS A LITTLE LATE NEXT YEAR?

Spring is too short a season as it is.

So plan your fertilizer needs with Sohigro now, and apply your nitrogen, phosphate and potash this fall. It's a good time to include anhydrous ammonia, too.

If you do the groundwork on your crop production plans now, you'll have that much less to do next spring. And chances are, you'll improve your profit picture.

Isn't this as good a time as any to talk to Sohigro? After all, you know what they say about the early bird.

WET EGG TOSSERS—The egg tossing contest was about the only scheduled event held Friday at the Pumpkin Show, and that was only because the contestants didn't mind getting wet. Amanda-Clearcreek High School juniors Venus McKenzie and Terry Daniels captured the first prize, beating Circleville's senior team of Lisa Leahy and Tom Marshall in a playoff. Circleville's team appeared to have the contest won, but Marshall mishandled Lisa's toss to set-up the win for A-C. Other teams were Vicki Morrison and Jeff Moorehead representing Circleville and Peggy Overly and Mack Dick representing Westfall.

CAUGHT WITHOUT UMBRELLAS—Some early afternoon Pumpkin Show visitors were caught without umbrellas. And, even though there wasn't much to do or see, they still trekked about in the rain taking in what sights were available.

WET FRIDAY—Miserable was about the only way one could describe Friday at the Pumpkin Show. The biggest attraction in the rain-filled day was watching the various ways visitors used to protect themselves from the constant rain. Some used umbrellas, some stood under shelters, some braved the weather in only parkas, but the smarter ones stayed home.

CIA Priced Castro Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIA was prepared to pay the Mafia as much as $100,000 to kill Cuban premier Fidel Castro at the time of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion, according to informed investigators.

However, the money was turned down by underworld figures Sam Giancana and John Rosselli, who agreed to undertake the mission for free, investigative sources said Thursday.

As a result of the proposal, the CIA paid out "less than $10,000, perhaps less than $5,000" in expense money in the scheme to poison Castro, sources said.

Two sources said Rosselli testified earlier this year before the Senate Intelligence Committee that he turned down the money because he felt he was performing a patriotic duty.

However, one of those sources said he was skeptical of Rosselli's expressed patriotism, saying Castro's death was "probably worth more than $100,000 to him" as a necessary first step toward regaining the Mafia's extensive gambling interests in pre-Castro Cuba.

Published reports last summer also suggested the Mafia had been told it could recover $750,000 supposedly buried in Cuba at the time of the Castro takeover. In addition, the reports said the Mafia would have been allowed to resume gambling operations under a new regime.

Giancana, a Chicago rackets chief, was murdered earlier this year and never testified before the Senate committee.

Many details of the 1971 plot were made public last July by Robert A. Maheu, a former aide to billionaire Howard Hughes. He said he served as a liaison between the CIA and the Mafia. However, the first hint of how much the CIA was willing to pay to have Castro killed came on Wednesday when Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, a member of the Senate intelligence panel made a passing reference to "a $100,000 hit job on Castro."

Reached by phone Thursday in Las Vegas, Committee Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, confirmed that "a substantial amount of money was offered" and that the $100,000 figure mentioned by Schweiker was "in the ballpark." However, Church said his panel had heard differing testimony on the exact sum offered. He said, "I wouldn't like to verify the amount" without first checking committee records.

A source reading from notes he took during testimony by those involved in the plot said "at least one" witness cited the $100,000 figure. Another source said the $100,000 figure "would not be inaccurate."

3 Share Nobel Physics Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Professors from England and Switzerland were awarded the 1975 Nobel Prize for Chemistry Friday. John Warcup Cornforth, 58, of Shell Research Ltd., and Yugoslavian-born Vladimir Prelog, 69, of Zurich share the prize equally, the Swedish Academy of Science said.

Shortly before, the academy named an American and two Danes as cointerwinners of the 1975 Nobel Prize for Physics. They were James Rainwater, 57, of Columbia University; Aage Bohr, 53, whose father, Niels Bohr, was one of the founders of modern nuclear physics, and Bohr's collaborator, Benjamin Mottelson, 49.

Cornforth received his half of the $143,000 chemistry prize for "his work on the stereochemistry of enzyme-catalyzed reactions," the academy said. Prelog was cited "for his research into the stereochemistry of organic molecules and reactions."

The Swedish Academy of Science awarded the three physicists equal shares of the $143,000 prize, citing them for "the discovery of the connection between collective motion and particle motion in atomic nuclei and the development of the theory of the structure of the atomic nucleus based on this connection."

Rainwater, 57, is the fifth American to win a 1975 Nobel prize. On Tuesday economist Tjalling C. Koopmans of Yale University was named joint winner of the award in economics with Leonid Kantorovich of the Soviet Union, and on Thursday the award in medicine and physiology was announced for David Baltimore of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Howard Temin of the University of Wisconsin and Renato Dulbecco, who works at a cancer laboratory in London.

Andrei Sakharov, the Soviet nuclear physicist and leader in the fight for civil rights in the Soviet Union, was awarded the peace prize on Oct. 9.

The Academy of Science gave this account of the prize-winning research by Rainwater, Bohn and Mottelson and the situation in nuclear physics from which it developed:

"At the end of the 1940s nuclear physics had advanced to a stage where a more detailed picture of the structure of the atom nucleus was beginning to emerge and it was possible to assess its properties. The models scientists were working with then were, however, fairly deficient and contradictory to a certain extent.

"Some properties of the atom nucleus showed, however, that the individual nucleons definitely affect the behavior of the nucleus. This discovery, demonstrated in a scale model, was awarded the 1963 Nobel Prize in Physics."

Rainwater was the first to present a solution to the problems concerning the properties of certain nuclear matter in a brief paper published in April 1950. It concerned the interplay between nucleons.

Bohr, working in Copenhagen at the Niels Bohr Institute but at that time visiting Columbia, had independently of Rainwater been thinking along the same lines.

"It had been found that the nucleus has properties — such as marked aberrations from spherical symmetry — which could not be explained with the previous theories and scale models," the academy said. "No one could give a reasonable explanation of the phenomenon showing how certain nuclei deformed until first Rainwater and, a month afterward Bohr, presented their independent papers on the interplay between nucleons.

While Rainwater took a new tack, working with cyclotrons on the interplay of neutrons in atomic nuclei, Bohr returned to Copenhagen and with Mottelson developed the vague ideas from the original papers in a famous work from 1951 in which he "gave a very comprehensive study of the coupling of oscillations of the nuclear surface to the movements of the individual nucleons..." the academy said.

"The conformity between theory and experiment was so complete that there could be no doubt of the accuracy of the theory. This gave stimulus to new theoretical studies, but above all to very many experiments...."

Japanese Minister Presents Atom Film

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Kiyoshi Tanimoto, an American-educated Methodist minister who survived the Hiroshima bombing, will present a documentary film, "Scars," at a public lecture Monday at the Church of the Master.

Tanimoto is making his sixth tour of the United States, sponsored by the Hiroshima Peace Center Foundation. His visit to Westerville is under the auspices of Otterbein College.

He escaped injury during the Aug. 6, 1945 bombing raid when he helped a parishioner move some valuable family furniture to a suburb in anticipation of possible fire bomb raids. He stooped behind a stone wall at the moment of the searing flash. When he awoke, he found the city had literally vanished before his eyes.

While Rainwater took a new tack, working with cyclotrons on the interplay of neutrons in atomic nuclei, Bohr returned to Copenhagen and with Mottelson developed the vague ideas from the original papers in a famous work from 1951 in which he

"gave a very comprehensive study of the coupling of oscillations of the nuclear surface to the movements of the individual nucleons..." the academy said.

"The conformity between theory and experiment was so complete that there could be no doubt of the accuracy of the theory. This gave stimulus to new theoretical studies, but above all to very many experiments..."

CHS Tigers Dampened By Miami Trace In Downpour, 14-0

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

When Circleville failed to capitalize on two breaks early in the first quarter, it seemed to ignite the spark that Miami Trace was looking for and the Panthers rolled over the Tigers 14-0 on a cold, rain-swept field to the delight of the Trace homecoming crowd.

The Tigers kicked off to Trace and on the second play of the game the Panthers fumbled and Frank Merrill pounced on the loose ball like a cat on a mouse to give the Tigers a first down on the Panthers' 14-yard line.

But, Circleville returned the favor two plays later and Miami's Scott Martin grabbed on the loose ball on the Trace 11-yard line.

The Panthers were stopped by a stubborn Tiger defense on the Circleville 19-yard line and were forced into a punting situation.

Tom McGuire broke through to block Dave Hennesy's punt and the Red and Black were back in business with first and goal on the Miami 9-yard stripe.

But, once again the Tigers let the opportunity slip through their fingers

ROBIN MARTIN

Robin Martin, a Wittenberg University sophomore from Circleville, is making a significant contribution to the Tigers' cross country team this year.

Martin graduated from Circleville High School where he was a district runner-up in cross country two years ago. Although the 5'11", 145 pound second-year man did not compete for the Tigers at the five-mile level last year, he should add depth and strength to the squad this year after a successful track season last spring.

Robin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Martin, 428 Glenmont Ct., Circleville.

Dove Dispute To Revive Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A second legislative battle may flare before Ohio's next mourning dove hunting season begins Nov. 14 and ends Dec. 6. But it isn't expected to stop it.

The first season, which began in controversy Sept. 1, ended quietly Friday.

The state division of wildlife said it didn't believe the season attracted many hunters.

But controversy could arise again Tuesday when the Senate considers a bill to prohibit the hunting of the bird. The House has approved the measure.

The bill, which would not go into effect for 90 days after signing by the governor—who could veto it—would not affect the second season planned this year.

Wildlife division spokesman James Schohy said he thought the average Ohioan didn't really know much about the controversy.

Schohy said the division ran one bag check on the number of birds killed after the first day of the season that showed 407 hunters had harvested 1,019 birds.

The division estimated that 2,575 birds were bagged by the second day, when the season was halted for two days by Supreme Court Justice Frank Celebrezze. The hunt resumed later that week after a 6-1 decision by the full seven-member high court with Celebrezze the lone dissenter.

The Supreme Court refused a writ of prohibition to stop the season pending a full hearing. Similar efforts were tried unsuccessfully in courts in Toledo and Youngstown.

These two key factors took the wind out of the Tigers and seemed to inspire the Panthers who then began to dominate the game.

The statistics speak for themselves as the Tigers had four first downs in the game and a total of 53 net yards while the Panthers rolled up 10 first downs and netted 217 yards for the night's work.

Biff Bumgarner picked up 73 yards in 18 carries but several losses on attempted pass plays cut the net yardage of the Tigers to 53.

Rex Coe of Miami Trace was the big ground gainer for the night as he rambled for 174 yards and scored the first Panther touchdown.

Trace did a fine job of keeping Circleville in the hole and never really let the Tigers have any kind of field position after the opening minutes of the first quarter.

Neither team could get anything moving in the first quarter and it ended with the scoreboard reading 0-0.

But, midway through the second period Trace got the ball on the Tiger 45 and began to move. Coe carried five straight times and smashed into the endzone from the 1-yard line on his fifth carry to put Trace on top to stay with 4:21 left in the canto. A two point conversion attempt failed and it was 6-0.

Circleville failed to move and Bill Mogan was forced to punt into a gale. The ball only carried to the Circleville 27-yard line and once again the Panthers had fine field position.

Again it was Coe who lugged the pigskin to the Tiger 3-yard stripe in five carries and on the next play Art Schlichter rolled around the left side on a quarterback keeper with 41 seconds left in the half. He also carried over for the two point conversion and the teams went to the locker rooms with Trace holding a 14-0 margin.

The second half was just an even-steven affair on a rain drenched field with neither team being able to do any real damage.

The game was played under miserable conditions, but in all fairness it was the same for both teams.

"We had our big opportunities to break the game wide open right at the start but we failed to capitalize on them and just made too many mistakes," Circleville coach Larry Cook commented.

Circleville is now 6-1 for the season and 3-1 in South Central Ohio League play. The Tigers will host Unioto next Friday night.

TIGER ON THE PROWL—Circleville's Biff Bumgarner races into the open as his teammates give him some fine blocking. The Tiger tailback picked up some good real estate before being hauled down. Giving him support are: Tom McGuire (80), Bill Mogan (37), Tom Strawser (55) and Art Davis (78).

GANG OF CATS—A bunch of Tigers hit the Panther ball carrier and stopped his forward progress in the Circleville at Miami Trace game Friday night in a driving rainstorm. However, Trace came on to win the game 14-0 and knocked the Tigers from the ranks of the unbeaten. Circleville players in the picture are: Mearle Logan (45), Biff Bumgarner (48), Art Davis (78) and Tim Hartinger (65).

HANGING ON—A Miami Trace tackler hangs on to Circleville's Biff Bumgarner while he awaits the arrival of some help to bring the Tiger tailback down. Other identifiable Tigers in the picture are: Tom McGuire (80), Frank Merrill (23), Jeff Lackey (88), Tom England (72) and Bo Barthelmas (70).

Aces Blast Rockets In Mid State, 40-0

Amanda-Clearcreek displayed a powerful offense as the Aces rolled up 327 yards, 299 on the ground, and rolled over Berne Union 40-0 Friday night on the Rockets' field.

Mark Marshall led the Aces backs with 137 yards in nine carries, Tom Hinton rushed for 103 yards in 14 tries and scored three touchdowns while Rick Foster scampered for 76 in 12 carries and hit paydirt twice.

But, a lot of credit had to go to the boys up front who were really getting off the ball and opening holes for the backs to shoot through.

After the Aces had blocked a Rocket punt, Hinton capped a 30-yard drive when he raced over from the 6-yard line in the first quarter.

Still in the first quarter, Jed Davis broke through to block another Rocket punt and the Aces turned it into six points when Foster cracked over from the 5-yard line.

Foster got back into the act in the fourth frame when he rambled 29 yards into the endzone and then tallied on the two point conversion.

Dave Daugherty capped the scoring when he scored from the 1-yard line on a quarterback sneak to end a 40-yard drive.

Berne Union made one scoring threat in the game when they had a first and goal to go on the Aces 2-yard line after a bad snap from center in the second period.

But, the tough Aces defense, led by middle guard John Rowley, tackle Jed Davis and safetymen Tom Behmer and Craig Davis who played havoc with the Rockets offense all night, refused to give up the score and took over on downs.

Amanda-Clearcreek is now 6-1 for the season and 5-1 in Mid State League play. They will host Fairfield Union Friday night in a Parent's Night game.

Toledo Tops Port Huron In IHL, 6-2

By The Associated Press

Port Huron Coach Bob McCammon started the 1975-76 International Hockey League season in fiery fashion Friday by being ejected from his club's game with Toledo for protesting a referee's call too vehemently.

McCammon's Flags were the losers by a 6-2 score. Other victories were scored by Flint and Fort Wayne.

The Port Huron-Toledo match was a bruising contest with 72 minutes in penalties handed out. Don Westbrook sent the Goaldiggers into the lead when he scored the tie-breaking goal in the middle frame. Toledo topped the league in post-season play last year by winning the turner Cup.

In Flint, winger Wayne Zuk scored twice as the Flint Generals topped Saginaw 3-1. Flint's first goal came in the first period when Zuk scored with assists from center Marty Reynolds and Brian McBratney.

Saginaw tied it late in the period with a goal by rookie wing Dave Westner but Zuk hit again and Doug Manchak put the game away in the final period.

Robbie Laird was the big gun for Fort Wayne, scoring two goals in the Komets' 5-1 victory over Columbus. The Komets had a 2-0 lead after the first period and led 3-0 going into the final period.

Heavy Pro Football Schedule

By The Associated Press

A year ago, when the Miami Dolphins were en route to the National Football League playoffs and the New York Jets were en route to oblivion, the two teams got together in Shea Stadium.

The Dolphins still had Larry Csonka and Paul Warfield, two of the keys to their successive Super Bowl championships. But the Jets had Joe Namath.

The Jets' quarterback was preoccupied that day. His father was seriously ill. but he was able to put those worries out of his mind and concentrate instead on throwing a pair of touchdown passes to Richard Caster, rallying the Jets to a 17-14 victory.

That was the third of six straight victories that enabled the Jets to finish with a 7-7 record. And it was one of only three losses by Miami.

It may be a bit premature, but both teams are in the running for the playoffs this season—and both are running after Buffalo. The high-powered Bills, unbeaten and leading the American Conference East, play Monday night against the visiting New York Giants. The Dolphins are 3-1 and the Jets 2-2.

In Sunday's other games it's Oakland at Cincinnati, Detroit at Minnesota, Green Bay at Dallas, Cleveland at Denver, Atlanta at Los Angeles, Washington at Houston, Chicago at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Baltimore at New England, New Orleans at San Francisco and Kansas City at San Diego.

The Bengals, also unbeaten, send their NFL-leading defense and whip-armed quarterback Ken Anderson against the Raiders, who will be trying to rebound from the 42-10 shellacking they absorbed in Kansas City, their worst defeat in 11 seasons. Detroit found some offensive punch last week in Bill Munson, who threw three touchdown passes in his first start. Now the Lions are trying to punch their way into a share of the National Conference Central lead—but they'll have to do it against the unbeaten Vikings, owners of the NFC's No. 2 defense.

Dallas is No. 1 in that department—and the Cowboys are the fourth unbeaten club, two facts which bodes ill for Green Bay. Bart Starr's Packers are still looking for their first victory of the season. The Browns are doing the same for new Coach Forrest Gregg, taking an 0-4 record into Denver.

The Rams, with James Harris at quarterback, have been unable to put together the powerhouse offense they supposedly possess. And they face a flock of Falcons who are displaying not only spirit on offense behind Steve Bartkowski but also an improved defense.

The Redskins-Oilers game matches a pair of hard-running rookies, Washington's Mike Thomas and Houston's Don Hardeman. And Washington, having seen St. Louis' Terry Metcalf break loose for a 93-yard touchdown run with a kickoff, will be trying to cool off the Oilers' Billy "White Shoes" Johnson, who has made a habit of running wild with kickoffs and punts.

Chicago will be trying to halt Pittsburgh's eight-game winning streak against NFC opponents while the Cardinals, last year's NFC East champs but only 2-2 this year, will be trying to rebound from their loss to the Redskins by whipping Philadelphia.

The Colts, despite their 1-3 record, have been one of the surprise teams this year. They played tough against Los Angeles and Oakland, a pair of so-called powerhouses, and nearly knocked off Buffalo last week. Now they face the winless Patriots.

New Orleans and San Francisco share 1-3 records in the NFC West so early ownership of the cellar is at stake. Kansas City, coming off its rout of the Raiders, is going against a winless San Diego team, but one which has shown surprisingly tough defense on occasion.

DENVER (AP) — Denver Bronco Coach John Ralston calls Sunday's National Football League game with the Cleveland Browns a "real grudge match."

Ralston remembers 1972 when the Browns put a damper on "Floyd Little Day" with a 27-20 triumph. Last year, the Browns rallied for two dramatic touchdowns in the closing minutes to win 23-21 and effectively destroy Denver's playoff chances.

Cleveland brings an 0-4 record into Sunday's game. Under new Coach Forrest Gregg, the Browns have yielded 40 points or more in three successive routs.

And while it may seem rather heartless to hold a grudge against a team that has struggled as the Browns have this season, Ralston cautions that his opponent's record is deceiving.

"Cleveland is well coached and well drilled, but things just seem to be happening to them," Ralston says.

"Last week, they played Houston very tough midway through the second quarter and bang, bang, Mike Phipps has two interceptions, then they get the second-half kickoff run back and it's over at 27-10." The Browns lost 40-10.

Clearly, Ralston expects Cleveland to be a blood-thirsty team on Sunday.

Quarterback Steve Bartkowski, the first college player selected in the 1975 National Football League college draft, is third on Atlanta's depth chart.

Tackle Mark Doak of the Washington Redskins didn't start a game at Nebraska until his senior year.

It may be a bit premature, but both teams are in the running for the playoffs this season—and both are running after Buffalo. The high-powered Bills, unbeaten and leading the American Conference East, play Monday night against the visiting New York Giants. The Dolphins are 3-1 and the Jets 2-2.

In Sunday's other games it's Oakland at Cincinnati, Detroit at Minnesota, Green Bay at Dallas, Cleveland at Denver, Atlanta at Los Angeles, Washington at Houston, Chicago at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Baltimore at New England, New Orleans at San Francisco and Kansas City at San Diego.

The Bengals, also unbeaten, send their NFL-leading defense and whip-armed quarterback Ken Anderson against the Raiders, who will be trying to rebound from the 42-10 shellacking they absorbed in Kansas City, their worst defeat in 11 seasons. Detroit found some offensive punch last week in Bill Munson, who threw three touchdown passes in his first start. Now the Lions are trying to punch their way into a share of the National Conference Central lead—but they'll have to do it against the unbeaten Vikings, owners of the NFC's No. 2 defense.

Dallas is No. 1 in that department—and the Cowboys are the fourth unbeaten club, two facts which bodes ill for Green Bay. Bart Starr's Packers are still looking for their first victory of the season. The Browns are doing the same for new Coach Forrest Gregg, taking an 0-4 record into Denver.

The Rams, with James Harris at quarterback, have been unable to put together the powerhouse offense they supposedly possess. And they face a flock of Falcons who are displaying not only spirit on offense behind Steve Bartkowski but also an improved defense.

The Redskins-Oilers game matches a pair of hard-running rookies, Washington's Mike Thomas and Houston's Don Hardeman. And Washington, having seen St. Louis' Terry Metcalf break loose for a 93-yard touchdown run with a kickoff, will be trying to cool off the Oilers' Billy "White Shoes" Johnson, who has made a habit of running wild with kickoffs and punts.

Chicago will be trying to halt Pittsburgh's eight-game winning streak against NFC opponents while the Cardinals, last year's NFC East champs but only 2-2 this year, will be trying to rebound from their loss to the Redskins by whipping Philadelphia.

The Colts, despite their 1-3 record, have been one of the surprise teams this year. They played tough against Los Angeles and Oakland, a pair of so-called powerhouses, and nearly knocked off Buffalo last week. Now they face the winless Patriots.

New Orleans and San Francisco share 1-3 records in the NFC West so early ownership of the cellar is at stake. Kansas City, coming off its rout of the Raiders, is going against a winless San Diego team, but one which has shown surprisingly tough defense on occasion.

 - 9 (tie). Rockford Parkway, 5-0-1, vs. Maria Stein Marion Local was postponed and Middlefield Cardinal, 6-1-0, beat Newbury 22-0.
- DENVER (AP) — Denver Bronco Coach John Ralston calls Sunday's National Football League game with the Cleveland Browns a "real grudge match."
- Ralston remembers 1972 when the Browns put a damper on "Floyd Little Day" with a 27-20 triumph. Last year, the Browns rallied for two dramatic touchdowns in the closing minutes to win 23-21 and effectively destroy Denver's playoff chances.
- Cleveland brings an 0-4 record into Sunday's game. Under new Coach Forrest Gregg, the Browns have yielded 40 points or more in three successive routs.
- And while it may seem rather heartless to hold a grudge against a team that has struggled as the Browns have this season, Ralston cautions that his opponent's record is deceiving.
- "Cleveland is well coached and well drilled, but things just seem to be happening to them," Ralston says.
- "Last week, they played Houston very tough midway through the second quarter and bang, bang, Mike Phipps has two interceptions, then they get the second-half kickoff run back and it's over at 27-10." The Browns lost 40-10.
- Clearly, Ralston expects Cleveland to be a blood-thirsty team on Sunday.

Quarterback Steve Bartkowski, the first college player selected in the 1975 National Football League college draft, is third on Atlanta's depth chart.

Tackle Mark Doak of the Washington Redskins didn't start a game at Nebraska until his senior year.

Westfall Sets Up Title Clash By Blanking Huntington 38-0

A tremendous running attack led by last year's Scioto Valley Conference Back of the Year John Long coupled with a strong Mustang defense to pace Westfall to a 38-0 whitewash of visiting Huntington Friday night.

The game, like everything else Friday, was played in a swirling first half rain storm that changed to a near-blizzard in the second half.

But it didn't seem to bother Coach John Glanton's unbeaten Mustangs, who are now looking forward to hosting Piketon Friday in a battle of unbeaten SVC teams.

Both Westfall and Piketon are 7-0 on the year and are on a definite collision course for the league crown. Piketon, scoring 32 first-points, bombed Zane Trace 44-3 Friday to set-up the important games.

An interesting note in the SVC race is that Adena, 16-6 victors over Paint Valley Friday and only beaten in league play by the Mustangs, will play Piketon the week following.

Against Huntington, Long and his mates completely dominated the game, gaining 394 yards in total rushing offense.

Long himself accounted for 210 yards in 17 carries and four touchdowns, increasing his credentials for a repeat as SVC Back of the Year.

He got fine support from a host of Westfall runners, however.

Tony Simon ran for 82 yards in six carries and scored one touchdown on a 32-yard dash; Eddie Myers ripped for 46 yards in seven carries; quarterback Rick Stillings carried three times for 18 yards; young Greg Damron showed a touchdown scamper of 35 yards in his only attempt; and Bill Evans powered for a three-yard extra point conversion on his only run of the night.

The stellar Mustang defense made the job easier for the runners by capitalizing on four Huntington miscues.

Randy Adams picked off an intended Huntington pass, H. L. Gibson recovered two Huntsmen fumbles, and John Roberts got into the act with a fumble recovery.

Huntington received the opening kick, but the Mustang defense forced the punt after three plays and Westfall gained its first possession on its 43.

However, four straight minor penalties proved too much for even the Mustangs to conquer, and Long boomed a punt from his 47-yard-line to the Huntington 11.

Again, the Huntsmen failed to gain ground, and their ensuing punt slithered dead on the 29-yard-line for excellent Mustang field position.

Myers ripped for 19 yards to the 10, Long busted to the two, and, on the third play of the drive, the powerful junior running back hurtled into the endzone with 6:01 left in the period for the first score.

After the kick, Huntington managed its initial first down of the game. The drive stalled briefly when Tim Lett recovered a fumble on the Huntington 40 with 3:12 to go in the period, but the Mustangs coughed up the ball themselves several plays later.

The defense forced another Huntington punt, but the Mustangs again lost control of the slippery ball, this time near midfield as the quarter ended.

The Westfall defense rose to the occasion and forced a punt, which Long gathered in on his 20 and raced to midfield, the original line of scrimmage.

That set up Long's best run of the night, a 28-yard scoring jaunt around his right side with 8:14 to go in the half.

During the run, Long busted into a pile of blockers and tacklers near the 15-yard-line, knocking people in every direction. The referee, on top of the action, blew his whistle and started to toss his hat into the pile to note where the play ended when Long showed him the pigskin from the endzone.

The junior power back scored again in the period, this time taking the hand-off on a fourth down and one quick hitter and racing 35 yards.

He got his fourth score in the third period, racing 35 yards on a similar play. This time, Bill Evans smashed in with the only extra points of the night to make the count 26-0.

Coach Glanton removed his first stringers after Long's fourth touchdown, and back-up running back Tony Simons ripped through the line of scrimmage and into the endzone on a 32 yard scoring run.

Greg Damron capped the scoring with a 35-yard TD in the fourth period.

Dave Lawson of Shawnee Mission, Kan., kicked a 60-yard field goal for the Air Force against Colorado last season.

ANOTHER LONG RUN—Westfall's premier running back John Long, the SVC Back of the year as a sophomore, scored on this 35-yard run against Huntington Friday in leading the unbeaten Mustangs to a 38-0 win. Long gained 210 yards in 17 carries and scored four touchdowns.

Eastwick Ready If Needed

BOSTON (AP) — Rawly Eastwick lives in the Cincinnati Reds bullpen, a busy place when Sparky Anderson is managing a ball club.

The Reds won the National League West Division by a fat 20 games but you'd never know it from the complete game statistics of their pitching staff. Cincinnati starters finished what they began only 22 times during the regular season and the Reds haven't had a complete game in the World Series yet.

Now you know why they call Anderson Captain Hook.

To operate the hook, Sparky has to have a dependable bullpen. That's where Eastwick comes in. The lanky right-hander was credited with 22 saves during the regular season and had two victories and a save in the first five games of the Series. He carried a 1.29 earned run average out to the bullpen as the Reds prepared for Saturday's scheduled sixth game.

Those are pretty impressive statistics for a 25-year-old who wasn't even on the roster when the Big Red Machine began barreling its way through the National League last April. He had been one of the last cuts in spring training.

"That was the biggest disappointment of my life," said Eastwick. "I had my best spring ever but they still cut me."

Eastwick was dispatched to the Reds' Indianapolis farm club with a parting message from pitching coach Larry Shepard. "He told me, 'I don't think it will be long till you're back,'" recalled Eastwick.

One month into the season, Shepard's prediction came true and Eastwick was summoned back to Cincinnati. Nobody, however, bothered to tell the Reds' ball players. "I walked into the dressing room and everybody was surprised," the pitcher said. "They said, 'what are you doing here?'"

Eastwick gave the logical answer. "They told me to come here so I came," he said.

A few days later, the roster room was made when the Reds dropped infielder John Vukovich.

Eastwick had been disheartened by his return to the minors a month earlier. "I thought about it a lot," he said, "And I decided the only way for me to get back was to work as hard as I could. We had a good bunch of guys at Indianapolis and the manager, Vern Rapp, knew my situation and left me alone."

When Eastwick returned, Anderson dispatched him to the bullpen. The thin pitcher has the perfect personality for a reliever.

"I have the ability to put things out of my mind," he said. "I can concentrate on the batter and nothing else. That's the most important thing for a reliever—concentration."

Eastwick remembers back when he was a starting pitcher. "You'd go four days between starts and you'd sit around, wondering how you'd do. A reliever works so much more often, there's no time to think about that."

He's pitched in four of the first five World Series games and the same situation exists. "The Series—I really haven't had time to think about it. I haven't had time to concentrate on what I'm doing," he said.

"When it's over, I'll wake up and think, 'Wow, that was a pretty big deal I just went through.'"

Reds Ready For Game 6

Bulletin

BOSTON (AP) — The sixth game of the World Series was postponed today until 1 p.m. Sunday because of rain.

The Boston Red Sox and the Cincinnati Reds were scheduled to play this afternoon at Fenway Park, but officials announced this morning that the game had been called due to poor weather.

The Reds lead the best-of-seven series 3-2.

BOSTON (AP) — It was a combination of clutch hitting, sweet pitching and a kiss from Lady Luck that brought the Cincinnati Reds back to Fenway Park leading the World Series 3-2.

The National League champions, who were favored to beat the Red Sox in baseball's colorful show, were lucky to get out of Boston alive last weekend and fortunate to be sitting in the driver's seat this weekend.

The Reds were one out away from losing Game 2 last Sunday but came off the critical list and rallied for the winning runs on a seeing-eye single by Dave Concepcion and a double by Ken Griffey.

Happy with their great escape from Boston, the Reds took a 2-1 lead with the help of the "collision bump" play in Game 3. The infamous play not only knocked Boston's Sox off, but provided enough fuel for the whole hot stove league season.

With the extraordinary game tied at 5-5 in the 10th, the Reds had a man on first with nobody out and Ed Armbrister, quite logically, laid down a sacrifice bunt.

What followed, however, was somewhat bizarre.

It turned into baseball's version of the "statue of liberty" play as Armbrister stood stockstill while Fisk attempted to follow the bouncing ball. Fisk plowed through Armbrister and in his haste to nail the lead runner, threw wildly into center field, allowing both runners safety.

Fisk and Boston Manager Darrell Johnson argued vociferously with home plate umpire Larry Barnett that the runner had interfered with the catcher's play, but to no avail. They lost the argument and eventually the game when Joe Morgan hit a bases-loaded single.

Despite taking a 2-1 lead in the Series, Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson was well aware that his team wasn't up to top form.

"We've played worse," said the Reds manager, "but we've played a whole lot better, too."

This was evident in Game 4 Wednesday night, when a courageous performance by Luis Tiant beat the Reds and tied the remarkable series at 2-2. Tiant was not nearly as effective as his first-game start, when he shut out the Reds, but he had enough to beat them with his second-best stuff.

Teays Valley Falls 22-0 To Rough West Jefferson

West Jefferson scored three touchdowns in the second quarter to forge a 22-0 lead over Teays Valley that stood up as the game's final score Friday.

The game, played under miserable field conditions, was homecoming for the Roughriders.

Runningback Craig Hausinger scored from five yards out early in the second period, quarterback Tim Faust hurtled in from the one for another score, and Tom Murray scampered 17 yards with a pass interception for a score.

Faust passed to Larry Baker for one extra point conversion, and Larry Shipley ran in with the other.

Colonels Top 76ers

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Kentucky Colonels spotted the Philadelphia 76ers a 60-55 halftime lead before roaring back to outscore them 33-20 in the third period winning 112-110 Friday night.

"I thought," said Colonels Coach Hubey Brown who had words for the team at halftime, "they were exciting at times in the third quarter."

It was the first loss in six preseason games for the National Basketball Association 76ers led by George McGinnis with 25 points.

The victory was the third straight by the American Basketball Association Colonels over NBA in exhibition play at the new Cincinnati Coliseum.

McGinnis, formerly of the ABA Indianapolis team, had a 20 point first half but got only five in the second half after 6-year veteran forward Wilbert Jones went to work on him.

"At halftime, our biggest complaint was our lack of aggressiveness," said Brown.

"That's our game. but, in the third quarter, we played up on people, jammed 'em." In addition, the Colonels grabbed the lead back outscoring the 76ers 21-3 in the first five minutes of the period.

Colonels Top 76ers

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Kentucky Colonels spotted the Philadelphia 76ers a 60-55 halftime lead before roaring back to outscore them 33-20 in the third period winning 112-110 Friday night.

"I thought," said Colonels Coach Hubey Brown who had words for the team at halftime, "they were exciting at times in the third quarter."

It was the first loss in six preseason games for the National Basketball Association 76ers led by George McGinnis with 25 points.

The victory was the third straight by the American Basketball Association Colonels over NBA in exhibition play at the new Cincinnati Coliseum.

McGinnis, formerly of the ABA Indianapolis team, had a 20 point first half but got only five in the second half after 6-year veteran forward Wilbert Jones went to work on him.

"At halftime, our biggest complaint was our lack of aggressiveness," said Brown.

"That's our game. but, in the third quarter, we played up on people, jammed 'em." In addition, the Colonels grabbed the lead back outscoring the 76ers 21-3 in the first five minutes of the period.

Hausinger paced the Roughrider 214-yard ground attack with 102 yards. Neither team completed a pass, although Teays Valley tried three times.

West Jefferson accumulated 14 first downs to only five for Teays Valley, which picked up 113 rushing yards.

The win lifts West Jefferson to 3-2 in the Metro League, while Teays Valley is 1-4 in league play and 1-6 for the year.

The Vikings will return to the Teays Valley field Friday when they host Grandview.

Danny Beaver of Illinois holds the field-goal distance record for Iowa's Nile Kinnick Stadium. Last season he booted one of 50 yards.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FORSUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You may have to make some concessions in a family matter, but the end results will be well worthwhile. Expect some good news in the p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Here is an opportunity to gain a better grip on friendships and family interests, hobbies, an avocation or plans you may be making for a long desired trip.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Bow to the demands of present circumstances until you have time to really plan a new and more profitable course. Sharpen your fine mental gifts.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Take unusual situations in a philosophical way and whatever surprises there are will show their advantageous side quickly. Only the pessimist sees the gloomy side.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Do not lower your dignity by suing forceful measures to attain your aims. You will accomplish more through graciousness, serenity.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): This day should turn out satisfactorily if you are master of your emotions in all situations. Especially favored: travel, outdoor interests, community affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You should feel highly optimistic now. Help lift the morale of others and you'll give yourself a boost at the same time. Some interesting news possible.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A day of mixed influences. You can hold your own through thoughtful management, with a dash of imagination. Do not become annoyed if some change in your program is necessary.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Admonitions for this day: Do not complicate situations which are involved enough already, and DO be careful not to antagonize others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): What is significant to you may not be to others, so be careful how you express your views and don't PRESS for results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't blow up trifles beyond all proportion, and DO be careful not to misjudge others. You could get the wrong angle on their doings through your own misinterpretations.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You may trip over little matters if not watchful. Have patience and the "vagueness" or seeming inconsistency of things will clear. Manage tactfully.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with zestful enthusiasm, a fine mind and an unusually strong sense of justice. You like people, can be a tremendous help in organizational work, and your thoughtful opinions, coupled with your fair-mindedness, would help you to excel as either a lawyer or jurist. Your practical and artistic gifts go hand in hand and if you are engaged in a prosaic occupation, you might take up one of the arts as a pastime. Many noted statesmen, musicians, illustrators and designers have been Libra-born.

Travelers Get Refund

PENINSULA, Ohio (AP) — Martha and Leonard Kubicek received a $2.25 refund check, an apology and a basket of fruit Thursday from the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

Also, from a 10-year-old North Royalton boy, one of three who dropped a brick from a turnpike overpass through the Kubicek's car window, they received a handwritten letter of apology.

The brick crashed through the passenger side window of the Kubicek's car as it passed under Ohio 3 near Strongsville in Cuyahoga County in September.

In the confusion that followed, the Kubiceks lost their turnpike ticket. Although they had traveled 45 cents worth, they had to pay the maximum toll of $2.25 because they had no ticket.

When Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy learned of the incident, he ordered a refund.

"We at the commission share your feeling of shock and horror about this type of crime," said Allan V. Johnson, executive director of the commission. "(It is) a sad commentary on at least a part of our society."

F.D. Adios Wins Lebanon Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—F.D. Adios slogged through a heavy rain to win the featured pace mile at Lebanon by a length in 2:14.3-5 Friday night and paid $29, $13.60 and $5.60.

Naughty Willy placed, $12.80 and $13.40, and Edgewood Bantry, third, $9.40. The 4-2 daily double of Defense Mungo and D.C. Coalton paid $8.20.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Anchor Hocking Earnings Record

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Anchor-Hocking Corp. reported Friday third quarter earnings of $6,088,000, or 90 cents a share, the highest earnings in its history. Sales totaled $17.2 million.

The firm said earnings were up 28 per cent over the same period last year when they totaled $4,749,000, or 70 cents per share.

Earnings for the first nine months of 1975 were listed as $14,283,000, or $2.11 per share, also a record. For the same period in 1974, they were $11,840,000, or $1.73 per share.

Indiana Harness Race Figure Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lyla "Cricket" Reel, 29, of Columbus, advertising director for Hoof Beats Magazine and former secretary in the harness racing department of the Indiana State Fair, was killed in a two-car collision here Friday night.

Authorities said she was dead on the scene.

Well known to Grand Circuit owners, trainers and drivers for her work at the Indiana State Fair, Mrs. Reel had held the post with the magazine, official publication of the U.S. Trotting Association, since November 1973.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You may have to make some concessions in a family matter, but the end results will be well worthwhile. Expect some good news in the p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Here is an opportunity to gain a better grip on friendships and family interests, hobbies, an avocation or plans you may be making for a long desired trip.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Bow to the demands of present circumstances until you have time to really plan a new and more profitable course. Sharpen your fine mental gifts.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Take unusual situations in a philosophical way and whatever surprises there are will show their advantageous side quickly. Only the pessimist sees the gloomy side.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Do not lower your dignity by suing forceful measures to attain your aims. You will accomplish more through graciousness, serenity.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): This day should turn out satisfactorily if you are master of your emotions in all situations. Especially favored: travel, outdoor interests, community affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You should feel highly optimistic now. Help lift the morale of others and you'll give yourself a boost at the same time. Some interesting news possible.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A day of mixed influences. You can hold your own through thoughtful management, with a dash of imagination. Do not become annoyed if some change in your program is necessary.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Admonitions for this day: Do not complicate situations which are involved enough already, and DO be careful not to antagonize others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): What is significant to you may not be to others, so be careful how you express your views and don't PRESS for results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Don't blow up trifles beyond all proportion, and DO be careful not to misjudge others. You could get the wrong angle on their doings through your own misinterpretations.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You may trip over little matters if not watchful. Have patience and the "vagueness" or seeming inconsistency of things will clear. Manage tactfully.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with zestful enthusiasm, a fine mind and an unusually strong sense of justice. You like people, can be a tremendous help in organizational work, and your thoughtful opinions, coupled with your fair-mindedness, would help you to excel as either a lawyer or jurist. Your practical and artistic gifts go hand in hand and if you are engaged in a prosaic occupation, you might take up one of the arts as a pastime. Many noted statesmen, musicians, illustrators and designers have been Libra-born.

Travelers Get Refund

PENINSULA, Ohio (AP) — Martha and Leonard Kubicek received a $2.25 refund check, an apology and a basket of fruit Thursday from the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

Also, from a 10-year-old North Royalton boy, one of three who dropped a brick from a turnpike overpass through the Kubicek's car window, they received a handwritten letter of apology. The brick crashed through the passenger side window of the Kubicek's car as it passed under Ohio 3 near Strongsville in Cuyahoga County in September.

In the confusion that followed, the Kubiceks lost their turnpike ticket. Although they had traveled 45 cents worth, they had to pay the maximum toll of $2.25 because they had no ticket. When Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy learned of the incident, he ordered a refund. "We at the commission share your feeling of shock and horror about this type of crime," said Allan V. Johnson, executive director of the commission. "It is a sad commentary on at least a part of our society."

F.D. Adios Wins Lebanon Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — F.D. Adios slogged through a heavy rain to win the featured pace mile at Lebanon by a length in 2:14.3-5 Friday night and paid $29, $13.60 and $5.60.

Naughty Willy placed, $12.80 and $13.40, and Edgewood Bantry, third, $9.40. The 4-2 daily double of Defense Mungo and D.C. Coalton paid $8.20.

New York City Wins Reprieve

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City has won another last-minute reprieve from financial default. But officials say the city is still in grave trouble and that only federal help can ultimately save it from collapse.

The city was rescued from its narrowest brush yet with fiscal disaster Friday afternoon when the teachers' union relented and agreed to use its pension funds to help refinance $453 million in debt obligations which came due at 3 p.m.

A complex financial plan to meet some $1 billion in obligations through November is still not firmly tied down, however. And in December and January the city faces a whopping total of $2.16 billion in cash shortages with no source of the money in sight.

To consider possible ways the federal government could help with the post-November problem, the Senate Banking Committee resumes hearings today in Washington, with New Orleans Mayor Moon Landrieu as the leadoff witness. Mayor Abraham D. Beame is to testify Landrieu, president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, criticized President Ford on Friday for the administration's continuing opposition to providing federal aid to the city.

"I find it awfully strange that there is strong administration support for economic aid to foreign countries, both friends and enemies, and that there has been administration support for Penn Central and other financial giants pleading bankruptcy," he said.

Throughout the crisis, Ford and his spokesmen have emphasized the need for fiscal austerity by the city.

Gov. Hugh Carey, who has put together one deal after another in the past six months to avert the city's financial collapse, emerged from around-the-clock negotiations Friday to announce, "We are not in default."

That ended a day of concern in which the city's plight had provided at least a first taste of the international economic repercussions which some analysts had warned would follow default.

Bond trading on Wall Street had all but halted, and stock prices were sharply declining in slow trading. In Europe, currency trading came close to a standstill, and world gold prices rose in a pattern which suggested that the value of the U.S. dollar could be hurt if default were allowed to occur.

Carey sent a telegram to Ford declaring that New York was "exhausting its resources" to avert default through November and that after that "the welfare of our citizens rests in the hands of our federal government."

"We need not a handout, but the recognition by the federal government that we are a part of this country," Carey said, repeating his call for federal guarantees of the city's borrowings to allow it to raise money in private financial markets.

But in Washington, there was no indication that Ford's opposition to such help was softening.

At the height of Friday's crisis, White House Press Secretary Ronald Nessen declared that Ford "will not take action to prevent a New York City default."

Suit Claims C&SOE Violated Clean Air Act

The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. was charged with violating the Federal Clean Air Act of 1970 in a suit filed Friday in U.S. District Court by the Ohio Environmental Council.

The suit maintains the C&SOE power plants, including the Pickaway County generating station, emit smoke which exceeds standards for soot content and blackness that were to have been met by July 1.

The suit is apparently seeking enactment of a permanent stop order that would force C&SOE to bring its equipment in line with current air pollution minimums.

Forecast

NORTHWEST WEST LAKE SHORE

Windy and cold with occasional rain tonight. Lows tonight near 40. Cloudy with a chance of light rain Sunday. Highs near 50. Probability of rain 60 per cent tonight and 40 per cent Sunday.

WEST CENTRAL CENTRAL SOUTHWEST

Cloudy with a chance of occasional rain or drizzle tonight and Sunday. Lows tonight in the low 40s. Highs Sunday near 50. Probability of rain 50 per cent tonight and 40 per cent Sunday.

EAST CENTRAL SOUTHEAST

Cloudy with occasional rain likely tonight and Sunday. Lows tonight in the low 40s. Highs Sunday in the low 50s. Probability of rain 60 per cent tonight and Sunday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Heavy rains tapered off Friday, but blustery winds and temperatures in the 40s and low 50s continued. Rainfall totals since Friday morning were from one to two inches over a large part of Ohio.

Lighter amounts fell in the northwest where Toledo recorded just under a quarter of an inch.

Strong northeast winds brought high water levels along the shore of western Lake Erie and also caused some flooding where water backed up in the lower reaches of the Sandusky and Huron rivers.

The low center responsible for this adverse weather was over West Virginia early this morning. A new low was expected to develop along the Mid Atlantic coast today while the low west of the mountains drifts to the north and weakens slowly.

HUD Chief Revives Housing Program On Mortgages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Secretary Carla Hills is reviving a previously discarded program in which federal funds will be used to help moderate-income Americans buy homes.

Despite the unexpected strength of the nation's general economic recovery, activity in the homebuilding industry will lag behind the general trend, Mrs. Hills said Friday in announcing the resurrection of the Section 235 home ownership program.

But, she said, "I see the gradual recovery continuing." A few hours later, her assessment was confirmed by a Commerce Department report showing that starts on new housing units declined during September by 2.2 per cent to an annual rate of 1.24 million units, while the number of new building permits issued climbed by 8 per cent to the highest level since June 1974.

Since building permits indicate future activity, and since the starts rate was still 6.7 per cent ahead of a year ago, the over-all picture sketched by the statistics was of a continuing but gradual recovery.

"I think it's a kind of a very mixed picture," said Michael Sumichrast, economist for the National Association of Home Builders.

The home ownership program, when started next spring, will allow the use of federal funds to subsidize home purchases by families earning $9,000 to $11,000 a year. Inflation and shortages of new moderately priced homes have nearly shut off families in that income range from buying houses.

Mrs. Hills said the program will allow a family of four living on $10,000 a year to buy a house with a $20,000 mortgage at 9.5 per cent interest and pay only $152 per month. The government will pay the lender $59 a month to make up the difference between the family's payment and the normal mortgage payment of $211 a month.

She estimated the money available for the program will be adequate to subsidize 250,000 new and substantially rehabilitated houses. That should generate some 500,000 new construction-related jobs, she said.

J.S. Norman, president of the National Association of Homebuilders, praised the moderate housing program, urging that it be implemented immediately.

"We have long held that providing the opportunities for moderate-income families to purchase their own homes is an essential part of fulfilling the nation's housing needs," he said.

Norman also called for immediate release of $5 billion appropriated for aiding the construction of apartments and homes for middle-income families.

Revival of the home ownership plan represented a reversal of previous administration policy. Former President Richard M. Nixon halted the program in January 1973 amid massive defaults by participants. Both he and President Ford subsequently refused to maintain the program, despite continuing appropriations of money for it by Congress.

The program, as restructured by Mrs. Hills, will be funded out of $264.1 million appropriated for it by Congress earlier this year. When the administration initially refused to spend the money, Congress filed suit in the courts. Mrs. Hills said the suit was a factor in deciding to release the money.

Masons Elect GL Officers

Calvin T. Hubler of Dayton, was elected grand master of Ohio Masons at a weekend convention in Toledo of more than 2,000 delegates from the state's 680 Masonic Lodges.

Hubler, 60, is executive secretary of the Scottish Rite, Valley of Dayton. He succeeds Robert D. Sager of Oregon.

Other new Grand Lodge officers are Charles S. Ward of Mentor, deputy grand master; Jerry C. Rasor of Commercial Point, senior grand warden; Daniel F. Iceman of Wooster, junior grand warden; Charles B. Moody of Zanesville, grand treasurer; Robert A. Hinshaw of Worthington, grand secretary; The Rev. Milford E. Ater of Enon, grand chaplain; Charles A. Brigham, Jr. of Cincinnati, grand orator; Edgar L. Miller of Bellefontaine, grand marshal; Floyd B. Gorrell of Hicksville, senior grand deacon; Donald M. Harlow of Kettering, junior grand deacon; and Oden D. Hartzell of Kettering, grand tyler.

Hubler has been a Mason for 32 years. He belongs to T. Johns Sodge No. 13 in Dayton, which he served as Master in 1953.

A 33rd degree Mason, the fraternal organization's highest honorary degree, Hubler is also past sovereign prince of Miami Council of Princes of Jerusalem of the Scottish Rite, Valley of Dayton, and is a member of the Shrine, Red Cross of Constantine, Royal Order of Jesters, Hi-Twelve Club of Downtown Dayton, and all four York Rite bodies, all Masonic affiliated organizations.

He has received the honorary Legion of Honor of the Order of DeMolay and is an honorary member of the Rainbow for girls. He is a member of the Normandy United Methodist Church of Dayton.

He lives with his wife, Ruby, at 1573 Crescent Blvd., Dayton. They have two married sons and five grand children.

The Grand Lodge also announced at the annual meeting the awarding of 27 scholarships presented to Ohio young people attending Ohio colleges, universities and theological seminaries.

Ohio's Masonic lodges have a combined membership of over 250,000 — the largest Masonic jurisdiction in the United States and second largest in the world.

The largest and oldest fraternal organization in Ohio, Freemasonry had its beginnings in the state in January, 1808, in Chillicothe.

Ohio-University Lists Lower Fall Enrollment

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University listed its fall enrollment Friday at 13,154, down from the 1974 enrollment of 13,572. Branch campus enrollment was reported up 15 per cent.

University officials said the main campus enrollment was 700 more than estimated last spring.

BUS JUMP—Fourteen Greyhound buses lined up at Kings Island present a formidable sight to Evel Knievel who will attempt to jump over them October 25. The famous motorcycle daredevil arrived at the family entertainment center October 13 to begin preparations for his longest jump. During a seven-city promotional tour preceding the event, Knievel will celebrate his 37th birthday in Dayton. October 17. Other cities on the tour are Cincinnati, Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Indianapolis and Louisville.

Canoe Trip Made To Study River

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Judge Douglas J. Ferguson, two assistant Ohio attorneys generals and another lawyer were to begin a canoe trip down the Stillwater River today in the interest of a court case.

The Montgomery County Common Pleas jurist, who is not unfamiliar to canoes, suggested the trip as a way of viewing the scene involved in litigation he will hear.

"There is no jury in this case, so I thought it would be a proper way to view the area we're talking about," the judge said. He said attorneys for the plaintiffs are lining up the canoes.

Weather permitting, the lawyers and the judge were to leave West Milton in Miami County and travel down the river through Darke County and into Montgomery before disembarking at Englewood, a Dayton suburb.

Judge Ferguson is scheduled to hear two lawsuits challenging the state's right to designate the waterway a senic river. He said a visit to the river was necessary.

"Under state law, there are certain conditions that must be met before they can designate a senic river," he said. "I want to take a look at it to see if there are any impediments or other obstructions."

The judge said he and attorneys in the case, which has yet to be assigned a trial date, were sitting in his chambers discussing the issues involved when he suggested the trip.

"I've done some canoeing before, but I don't even own a canoe now," said the jurist.

Terry Falknor of West Milton, president of the Stillwater Landowners Association, claims the state did not provide adequate notice of its intent to provide scenic status legislation on the river and its major tributary, Greenville Creek.

Private property owners in the area contend the designation by Natural Resources Director Robert Teater could lead to violation of their property rights by canoeists, hikers and picknickers. They want Teater's order rescinded.

Six other landowners filed a separate suit challenging the constitutionality of the law giving the natural resources director the right to make the designation.

They said it amounted to the taking of private property for public use without just compensation or due process of law. Both suits will be heard jointly, Ferguson said.

New York City Wins Reprieve

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City has won another last-minute reprieve from financial default. But officials say the city is still in grave trouble and that only federal help can ultimately save it from collapse.

The city was rescued from its narrowest brush yet with fiscal disaster Friday afternoon when the teachers' union relented and agreed to use its pension funds to help refinance $453 million in debt obligations which came due at 3 p.m.

A complex financial plan to meet some $1 billion in obligations through November is still not firmly tied down, however. And in December and January the city faces a whopping total of $2.16 billion in cash shortages with no source of the money in sight.

To consider possible ways the federal government could help with the post-November problem, the Senate Banking Committee resumes hearings today in Washington, with New Orleans Mayor Moon Landrieu as the leadoff witness. Mayor Abraham D. Beame is to testify. Landrieu, president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, criticized President Ford on Friday for the administration's continuing opposition to providing federal aid to the city.

"I find it awfully strange that there is strong administration support for economic aid to foreign countries, both friends and enemies, and that there has been administration support for Penn Central and other financial giants pleading bankruptcy," he said.

Throughout the crisis, Ford and his spokesman have emphasized the need for fiscal austerity by the city.

Gov. Hugh Carey, who has put together one deal after another in the past six months to avert the city's financial collapse, emerged from around-the-clock negotiations Friday to announce, "We are not in default."

That ended a day of concern in which the city's plight had provided at least a first taste of the international economic repercussions which some analysts had warned would follow default.

Bond trading on Wall Street had all but halted, and stock prices were sharply declining in slow trading. In Europe, currency trading came close to a standstill, and world gold prices rose in a pattern which suggested that the value of the U.S. dollar could be hurt if default were allowed to occur.

Carey sent a telegram to Ford declaring that New York was "exhausting its resources" to avert default through November and that after that "the welfare of our citizens rests in the hands of our federal government."

"We need not a handout, but the recognition by the federal government that we are a part of this country," Carey said, repeating his call for federal guarantees of the city's borrowings to allow it to raise money in private financial markets.

But in Washington, there was no indication that Ford's opposition to such help was softening.

At the height of Friday's crisis, White House Press Secretary Ronald Nessen declared that Ford "will not take action to prevent a New York City default."

Suit Claims C&SOE Violated Clean Air Act

The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. was charged with violating the Federal Clean Air Act of 1970 in a suit filed Friday in U.S. District Court by the Ohio Environmental Council.

The suit maintains the C&SOE power plants, including the Pickaway County generating station, emit smoke which exceeds standards for soot content and blackness that were to have been met by July 1.

The suit is apparently seeking enactment of a permanent stop order that would force C&SOE to bring its equipment in line with current air pollution minimums.

HUD Chief Revives Housing Program On Mortgages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Secretary Carla Hills is reviving a previously discarded program in which federal funds will be used to help moderate-income Americans buy homes.

Despite the unexpected strength of the nation's general economic recovery, activity in the homebuilding industry will lag behind the general trend, Mrs. Hills said Friday in announcing the resurrection of the Section 235 home ownership program.

But, she said, "I see the gradual recovery continuing."

A few hours later, her assessment was confirmed by a Commerce Department report showing that starts on new housing units declined during September by 2.2 per cent to an annual rate of 1.24 million units, while the number of new building permits issued climbed by 8 per cent to the highest level since June 1974.

Since building permits indicate future activity, and since the starts rate was still 6.7 per cent ahead of a year ago, the over-all picture sketched by the statistics was of a continuing but gradual recovery.

"I think it's a kind of a very mixed picture," said Michael Sumichrast, economist for the National Association of Home Builders.

The home ownership program, when started next spring, will allow the use of federal funds to subsidize home purchases by families earning $9,000 to $11,000 a year. Inflation and shortages of new moderately priced homes have nearly shut off families in that income range from buying homes.

Mrs. Hills said the program will allow a family of four living on $10,000 a year to buy a house with a $20,000 mortgage at 9.5 per cent interest and pay only $152 per month. The government will pay the lender $59 a month to make up the difference between the family's payment and the normal mortgage payment of $211 a month.

She estimated the money available for the program will be adequate to subsidize 250,000 new and substantially rehabilitated houses. That should generate some 500,000 new construction-related jobs, she said.

J.S. Norman, president of the National Association of Homebuilders, praised the moderate housing program, urging that it be implemented immediately.

"We have long held that providing the opportunities for moderate-income families to purchase their own homes is an essential part of fulfilling the nation's housing needs," he said.

Norman also called for immediate release of $5 billion appropriated for aiding the construction of apartments and homes for middle-income families.

Revival of the home ownership plan represented a reversal of previous administration policy. Former President Richard M. Nixon halted the program in January 1973 amid massive defaults by participants. Both he and President Ford subsequently refused to maintain the program, despite continuing appropriations of money for it by Congress.

The program, as restructured by Mrs. Hills, will be funded out of $264.1 million appropriated for it by Congress earlier this year. When the administration initially refused to spend the money, Congress filed suit in the courts. Mrs. Hills said the suit was a factor in deciding to release the money.

Masons Elect GL Officers

Calvin T. Hubler of Dayton, was elected grand master of Ohio masons at a weekend convention in Toledo of more than 2,000 delegates from the state's 680 Masonic Lodges.

Hubler, 60, is executive secretary of the Scottish Rite, Valley of Dayton. He succeeds Robert D. Sager of Oregon.

Other new Grand Lodge officers are Charles S. Ward of Mentor, deputy grand master; Jerry C. Rasor of Commercial Point, senior grand warden; Daniel F. Iceman of Wooster, junior grand warden; Charles B. Moody of Zanesville, grand treasurer; Robert A. Hinshaw of Worthington, grand secretary; The Rev. Milford E. Ater of Enon, grand chaplain; Charles A. Brigham, Jr. of Cincinnati, grand orator; Edgar L. Miller of Bellefontaine, grand marshal; Floyd B. Gorrell of Hicksville, senior grand deacon; Donald M. Harlow of Kettering, junior grand deacon; and Oden D. Hartzell of Kettering, grand tyler.

Hubler has been a Mason for 32 years. He belongs to T. Johns Lodge No. 13 in Dayton, which he served as Master in 1953.

A 33rd degree Mason, the fraternal organization's highest honorary degree, Hubler is also past sovereign prince of Miami Council of Princes of Jerusalem of the Scottish Rite, Valley of Dayton, and is a member of the Shrine, Red Cross of Constantine, Royal Order of Jesters, Hi-Twelve Club of Downtown Dayton, and all four York Rite bodies, all Masonic affiliated organizations.

He has received the honorary Legion of Honor of the Order of DeMolay and is an honorary member of the Rainbow for girls. He is a member of the Normandy United Methodist Church of Dayton.

He lives with his wife, Ruby, at 1573 Crescent Blvd., Dayton. They have two married sons and five grand children.

The Grand Lodge also announced at the annual meeting the awarding of 27 scholarships presented to Ohio young people attending Ohio colleges, universities and theological seminaries.

Ohio's Masonic lodges have a combined membership of over 250,000 — the largest Masonic jurisdiction in the United States and second largest in the world.

The largest and oldest fraternal organization in Ohio, Freemasonry had its beginnings in the state in January, 1808, in Chillicothe.

Canoe Trip Made To Study River

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Judge Douglas J. Ferguson, two assistant Ohio attorneys generals and another lawyer were to begin a canoe trip down the Stillwater River today in the interest of a court case.

The Montgomery County Common Pleas jurist, who is not unfamiliar to canoes, suggested the trip as a way of viewing the scene involved in litigation he will hear.

"There is no jury in this case, so I thought it would be a proper way to view the area we're talking about," the judge said. He said attorneys for the plaintiffs are lining up the canoes.

Weather permitting, the lawyers and the judge were to leave West Milton in Miami County and travel down the river through Darke County and into Montgomery before disembarking at Englewood, a Dayton suburb.

Judge Ferguson is scheduled to hear two lawsuits challenging the state's right to designate the waterway a senic river. He said a visit to the river was necessary.

"Under state law, there are certain conditions that must be met before they can designate a senic river," he said. "I want to take a look at it to see if there are any impediments or other obstructions."

The judge said he and attorneys in the case, which has yet to be assigned a trial date, were sitting in his chambers discussing the issues involved when he suggested the trip.

"I've done some canoeing before, but I don't even own a canoe now," said the jurist.

Terry Falknor of West Milton, president of the Stillwater Landowners Association, claims the state did not provide adequate notice of its intent to provide scenic status legislation on the river and its major tributary, Greenville Creek.

Private property owners in the area contend the designation by Natural Resources Director Robert Teater could lead to violation of their property rights by canoeists, hikers and picknickers. They want Teater's order rescinded.

Six other landowners filed a separate suit challenging the constitutionality of the law giving the natural resources director the right to make the designation.

They said it amounted to the taking of private property for public use without just compensation or due process of law. Both suits will be heard jointly, Ferguson said.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy rains tapered off Friday, but blustery winds and temperatures in the 40s and low 50s continued. Rainfall totals since Friday morning were from one to two inches over a large part of Ohio.

Lighter amounts fell in the northwest where Toledo recorded just under a quarter of an inch.

Strong northeast winds brought high water levels along the shore of western Lake Erie and also caused some flooding where water backed up in the lower reaches of the Sandusky and Huron rivers.

The low center responsible for this adverse weather was over West Virginia early this morning. A new low was expected to develop along the Mid Atlantic coast today while the low west of the mountains drifts to the north and weakens slowly.
